MAKES IT $200,000.

The Subcommittee Reports an Appropriation for the Exposition.

COLONEL LIVINGSTON IS CONFIDENT He Hopes to Rush the Bill Through the House.

A GOOD ROUND SUM FOR THE EXHIBIT

Secretary Carlisle Leaves the Disposition of the Chicago Building to Congress. Bidders Should Get to Work.

Washington, May 29.-(Special.)-The Atlanta exposition will get $200,000 from the government. Of this $50,000 is for the building and $150,000 for the exhibit. If the removal of the building is not practicable or if the removal and re-erection of the building are not possible within the amount of the appropriation, then the secretary of the treasury is authorized to have a building erected at Atlanta, the cost not to exceed $50,000. If the old building is removed, one-half of it is to be reserved for the government exhibit and the rest of the building will be for whatever exhibit the colored race may make. The building is to be under the control of a board of government trustees.

Secretary Carlisle today sent a letter to Hon. L. F. Livingston, chairman of the subcommittee of appropriations of the house of representatives, in regard to the action hitherto taken by the treasury in reference to the sale of the government buildings at Jackson park, Chicago.

and the sale of the main building to a his splendid argument soundly. Chicago house wrecking company, the preparation of the contracts, etc., etc., as previously published, the secretary states that the Chicago nouse wrecking company which purchased the main building is now insisting on the prompt execution of the contract, and, as the building is now held at the risk of the government, without insurance, he submits that congress should dispose of the pending proposition at the earliest possible day. The secretary states that the contract with I. M. Condit for the small building, not being involved in the proposed action by congress, will be executed at once, and the contract price covered into the treasury, but that the contract for the main building will be held for a reasonable time, in order that he may conform to such action as congress may see proper to take in view of the

An Early Report Expected. The full appropriations committee meets on Friday, when the subcommittee's report will be laid before it for action. Of the sixteen members of the committee Colonel Livingston is confident that twelve will vote for the bill and that it will at once be reported to the house With that done, in order to have early action by congress, the bill, as reported, may be offered as an amendment to the sundry civil bill in the senate by one of the Georgia

It is believed by Colonel Livingston that It will be adopted, and that at least thirty days can be made in the passage of the bill by rushing it through that way. It will take time to move the government building from Chicago. Every day counts. Colonel Livingston is heartily in favor of moving the Chicago building to Atlanta. He has every reason to believe it can be done within the appropriation of $50,000. It is several times larger than any new building that could be erected for that sum.

Further than this Colonel Livingston thinks that Atlanta contractors should bid on moving the building. Estimates from Chicago contractors are that it can be moved for $30,000, less freight charges, which should not carry it above $46,000. He thinks the bill, as reported by the subcommittee today is sure to pass, and that contractors should begin to figure on the matter at once and submit bids.

"Whereas, the city of Washington has a great and obvious interest in the materia development, progress and prosperity of the outhern states, all of which will be promoted by the Cotton States and International exposition at Atlanta, and

THE TEN PER CENT REPEAL.

Several Speeches on the Bill in the House Yesterday. Washington, May 29.—Tomorrow being Decoration Day, Mr. Catchings at the opening of the session today moved that when the house adjourned it be until Thursday Committees having been called for reports, the house went into committee of the whole—Mr. Richardson, of Tennessee, in the chair—on the 10 per cent bank tax bill. The first speaker was Mr. Cox, democrat, of Tennessee, when the chair—on the control of Tennessee, when the chair control of Tennessee, when the chair control of crat, of Tennessee, who was permitted to speak without limit. He favored the repeal of the law.

Mr. Johnson, republican, of Indiana, a member of the committee on banking and currency, was the next speaker, taking a position opposite to Mr. Cox.

Mr. Johnson spoke an hour and threequarters and was followed by Mr. Black, democrat, of Georgia, also a member of the committee. He first referred to the statement made by Mr. Springer, chairman of the committee, which was, he said, not the least of the strange doctrines asserted by the latter, that the supreme court was the final arbiter of what the constitution meant and was and that its decision was binding on the house. It would be, he said, remembered that at least in one instance in this congress (the repeal of the federal elec-tion laws) that doctrine was entirely repudi-ated. The congress was a co-ordinate branch of the government and was no more dependent upon the supreme court for an interpretation of the constitution than it was upon the house. In support of this Mr. Black quoted Jefferson's letters to John Adams upon this subject, which he com-mended to the chairman. Mr. Black traced the passage of the 10 per cent tax law through the senate, as he said, to supple-ment the history of the bill in the house, as given in Mr. Cox's speech, for the purpose of quoting eminent democratic au thority to show that the law was believed by the leaders quoted to be unconstitu Without concluding his remarks Mr. Black gave way to a motion that the committee rise. This was agreed to and at 5 o'clock the house adjourned until Thursday.

MAJOR BLACK ON THE BANKS. The Georgian Makes a Strong Reply to

Mr. Springer. Washington, May 29.—(Special.)—Major Black, of the Augusta district, got the floor

this afternoon forty minutes before adjournment, and began a speech in favor of the repeal of the state bank tax, making an exceedingly strong argument. Major Black took the ground that the prohibitory tax on the issue of state banks was unconstitutional, quoting to sustain his position from Thomas B. Hendricks and other great democratic lawyers in speeches made when congress imposed the tax. He simply, riddled the argument of Mr. Springer. Though it was late in the day, and the house had turned out, every member present crowded around the Georgian, and they applauded Though Major Black has made several speeches during this congress, none have compared with this one. He is a member of the committee, knows the question thoroughly, and is making a magnificent argument, delivered with splendid effect. His oratory at times today reached a height which called forth the greatest applause from his hearers. The house adjourned over until Thursday, when Major Black will conclude his speech.

SENATOR GORMAN IS SICK.

Office-Seekers Have Literally Worn Him Out. Washington, May 29.—Senator Gorman has not been in his seat in the senate since the day he delivered his recent speech upon the tariff bill. It was known that he was indisposed, but each day the announcement was made that rest was all he needed. Today, however, the senator's brother is quoted as saying that Senator Gorman is a quoted as saying that Senator Gorman is a very sick man. Overwork, he says, is the cause of Mr. Gorman's illness. In addition to the neuralgia, with which he has been suffering for several years, he has suffered from some trouble with his kidneys. He is also said to be subject to fits of nervousness which have brought on frequent attacks of insomnia, which later have also been aggravated by his old enemy, neuralgia.

ralgia. In addition to the above causes, ever since the inauguration of Mr. Cleveland, last year, Senator Gorman has been besleged at all hours by crowds of office seekers, who have literally worn him out. That he is a very sick man is admitted by all his closest friends. From time to time he has consulted specialists, who have assured him that he must have a rest or he would break

MRS. MAYBRICK'S MOTHER Appeals to the Press in Behalf of Her Daughter. London, May 29.-An appeal has been made by the Baroness Rouques, the mother of Mrs. Maybrick, to the press of England and America, asking their aid in behalf of her caughter, now serving a life sentence in the working prison for the murder of her husband. The appeal is accompanied by a pamphlet containing the latest evidence gathered in favor of the prisoner. Included in this evidence is an affidavit, dated Feb-ruary 9, 1894, in which it is declared that the prescription found by the baroness in the prescription found by the baroness in the Bible formerly owned by the late James Maybrick, is identical with the prescription compounded by which included arsenic compounded by Apothecary Brourt, in Paris, for Maybrick

Governor Lewelling's Address. Topeka, Kas., May 29.—Ex-Adjutant General Artz, at the head of his commonwealers, marched from their armory this afternoon to the office of the commissioner of elections and each of the fifty men were registered, all announcing their intention of returning from Washington in time to vote at the November election. From there the company was marched to the ttate-house grounds and addressed from the statehouse steps by Governor Lewelling. statehouse steps by Governor Lewelling. The army will so to Leavenwerth to-morrow and join General Sanders's army.

Commonwealers Sent Up. Helena, Mont., May 29.—Leaders of the Seattle contingent of the commonweal army were brought into the United States court today to answer the charge of contempt in seizing a train on the Northern Pacific railroad at the western line of the state, May 18th. J. W. Kelly, the leader, who is a brother of the Kelly whose army is now in St. Louis, was sentenced to the county fall for six months. John Ross, the engineer who had served two terms'in the peniten tiary and was released in January, was also given six months. William Blair, Stewart Lackey and Tom Davidson were each sentenced to thirty days in jail. passing sentence, Judge Knowles said the whole army seemed to be crossing the country with a purpose in view walch did not commend itself to reasonable men.

Discharged the Clerks. Washington, May 29.—The wholesale discharge of clerks for which Secretary Lamont has so long been preparing, took place in the war department today, nearly three hundred employes receiving notices that their services were no longer required. Many of them were also notified that they would be allowed pay until various dates in June on account of regular leaves of absence.

AFTER THE WRITERS. ROADS KNOCKED OUT

The Sugar Trust Scandal Committee They Lose the Famous Social Circle Case Wants to Scare Correspondents.

THEY ARE THREATENED WITH THE JAIL LONG AND SHORT HAUL INVOLVED

Makes Good Points.

HE GIVES THE COMMITTEE ADVICE

Call the Men Who Are Suspected of Being Implicated, and Let Them Tell What They Know or Make Denial.

Washington, May 29 .- (Special.)-The senate bribery investigation committee struck off on a sidetrack today. They were apparently getting close to the fox in the race, and, perhaps, fearing that they might run up on him, they struck off on the trail of a rabbit, which they happened to cross. Now the race is after the rabbit, and the senatorial hounds are barking very loud and running wildly through the woods. The noise they are making in the rabbit chase is calculated to make the public which has been watching the race, forget

The committeemen were getting lots of information from the newspaper men, but these men very properly refused to d'vulge the names of their informants. In consequence, the committee, instead of calling before it the senators and the government officials, and officials of the sugar trust and brokers who were said to have advance copies of the tariff bill, struck off on a sidetrack to force the newspaper men to tell the sources of their news. They reported Schriver and Edwards, two of the correspondents, to the senate for being in contempt in refusing to give the names of their informants, and, under an old law, called upon the vice president to certify the facts to the district attorney of the District of Columbia to prosecute them. Under the law, they can be sent to jail from one month to one year.

Though Senator Hill made a point of order against the report, the vice president ruled it in order, and under it he is instructed to act. Two resolutions are, therefore, now pending, one from Hill to instruct the vice president not to act until further orders by the senate, and one from Senator Dolph to have the correspondents appear before the bar the senate and have senate proceed against them. Senator Bill appealed from the vice president's ruling, and made a vigorous speech against the action of the committee, holding that instead of running off on sidetracks, the committee should summen the senators and other government officials whose names have been mentioned, and who have been implicated in the charges, and have them testify. But the committee is not inclined to do this. They are bringing the whole matter around to a chase after the newspaper men. They are not attempting to purge the senate. Might as Well Drop It.

As a matter of fact, it would be as well to stop the investigation now, for the chances are that nothing will come out of it. They can't get proof of senators speculating, and, if proof was gotten, what then? It is simply a violation of proprieties. It is not a criminal offense, and, under the law, there can be no prosecution. Then, as to the influence of the sugar trust upon the committee that prepared the bill, nothing can be proven. There may be senators under obligations to the trust people, doubtless there are some, and these senators probably forced the schedule, but there is no way of proving what caused these senators to be under obligations to or under the influence of the trust. It is known that the trust forced the schedule, but this committee nor any other committee or court can ever get at the details.

Thus the senate committee is reflecting no credit upon itself or upon the senate in attempting to have newspaper men jailed for refusing to violate the confidence imposed in them by giving the names of men who give them news. You had just as well ask a correspondent from whom he got executive session news on any specific occasion. The public is not easily gulled. That committee should either call the senators themselves or else report a finding that there is nothing in the current gossip about the influence of the sugar trust and senators speculating in sugar stock. The newspaper men told what they knew. Prosecuting and jailing them will not force them to violate confidences. Senator Hill hit the keynote when he told the committee ": was not right to press the newspaper men to divulge their confidential sources of information, but to go to the men against whom the charges were made. The men mplicated were available.

Mr. Carlisle Vindicated. The committee today examined Senators Voorhees, Jones and Vest, of the finance committee, in regard to the allegations made concerning the efforts of the sugar trust to influence legislation. They made a general denial of the charges made of the exercise of influence by the sugar trust and exercise of influence by the sugar trust and specifically contradicted the story that Secretary Carlisle had made a secret visit to gar interest be protected because of the democratic party's indebtedness to the sugar trust. They agreed that Secretary Carlisle had not made such a visit to the committee and that no such demand had been made upon the committee for the reasons given in Edwards's letter, or on any other

ing had been held by the committee on the Sunday before the tariff bill was reported for the consideration of the sugar schedule, and said that if the sugar people had been together in an adjoining room while the committee was in session at any time the committee was in session at any time they were not cognizant of the fact.

Senator Vest denied emphatically that he had informed Joe Rickey of the progress of the committee in considering the sugar schedule while the bill was in committee.

The committee adjourned over until Thursday. The examination of members of the finance committee will be resumed at the next meeting.

The following are the salient points of the testimony of Senator Caffery, of Louisiana testimony of senator Cantery, of Louisiana, as laid before the senate today:

Through Line Is Defined-A Great Victory for the Interstate Commerce Commission.

New Orleans, La., May 29 .- In the United States circuit court of appeals today Judges Pardee, Locke and McCormick gave the following decision on the long and short haul case, the title_being: "The interstate commerce commission vs the Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas Pacific Railway Company, the Western Atlantic Railroad Company and the Georgia Pacific Railway Company: Appeal from the circuit court of the United States for the northern district of Georgia.

"Ordered. That the decree of the circuit court be annuited, avoided and reversed, and that this case be remanded to the said circuit court, with instructions to enter a decree in favor of the complainant, the intertate commerce commission, and against the defendants the Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas Pacific Railway Company, commanding and restraining the said defendants, their officers, servants and attorneys, to cease and desist from making any greater charge in the aggregate on buggies, carriages and on other freight of the first class carried in less than carloads from Cincinnati to Social Circle than they charge on such freight from Cincinnati to Augusta; that they so desist and refrain within five days after the entry of each decree, and in case they or any of them shall fail to obey said order, condemning the said defendants, and each of them, to pay $100 a day for every day thereafter they shall so fail, and denying the relief prayed for in relation to charges on treig from Cincinnati to Augusta. The said defendants to pay all costs of court." The interstate commerce commission's side of the case was argued before the circuit court of appeals by Colonel N. J. Hammond, of Atlanta, and ex-United States Senator Edmunds, two of the ablest lawyers in the United States. This decision is one of the most important that has ever been delivered affecting railroads. A hundred cases are pending in the United States awaiting the decision of this one. If sustained by the supreme court of United States it will cut the railroads out of a great part of their revenues and will seriously affect distributing points. COMMISSIONER STAHLMAN TALKS.

He Calls a Meeting to Be Held Tomorrow to Handle the Rate War. Nashville, Tenn., May 29.—(Special.)—Commissioner Stahlman, of the Southern Railway and Steamship Association, has made public his action with regard to the rate war which has been going on for some time. He has been trying to stop the ma-nipulation of rates from the east, and having failed, has issued an order to reduce the rates from New York to all points in the association's territory 65 per cent.

Mr. Stahlman has called a meeting of the association, to be held in Atlanta Thursday next. Mr. Stahlman was asked about his order today and said:
"I don't know that I care to talk abou

this matter. It is a deplorable condition of affairs. I have been fighting against it for two years, and it is only because I believe that some decisive action is necessary that I have decided to put the extremely low rates into effect. Members have not been honest with each other and have not kept their agreements. The honest members of the association have suffered at the hands of the rascals who have been taking their business from them and we shall probably not have a change of these conditions until the people own the railroad properties in the south take a deeper interest in their man-

'In answer to a question as to whether or not there was any cutting indulged in Nashville the commissioner said: "Y but not so pronounced as at other points Rates to Nashville were reduced in obedi ence to the demands of the Nashville, Chat-tanooga and St. Louis and the Louisville and Nashville managements. KICKING AGAINST KELLY.

The Californians Say He Pockets Their Money. St. Louis, May 29.—There is a storm gathering about the head of General Kelly, of the California industrial army. Three mem-bers of the army will tomorrow, make charges before United States Commissioner Crawford against their commander. When the command left Des Moines it included a glee club of eleven men who sailed in a boat purchased by their own money. They are the Sacramento wing of the army which was opposed to Kelly f.om the start. They say that the money earned by their singing was turned over to Kelly, but that Kelly wanted to get rid of them because they knew of his alleged irregular use of money contributed by the public. At Clif-ton, Ill., they state Kelly took possession of their boat and turned it adrift, leaving them on shore. They arrived here on foot today. Ex-Colonel Speed also arrived and proposed to enliven matters for the general who set him ashore on a sand bar. The industrials were feted today as though they were a conquering army returning from

MADE CONFLICTING STATEMENTS. Chieco Seems to Have Made the Same

Mistake the Parrot Made. Charleston, S. C., May 29.—(Special.)—A rather queer case came up in the courts to-day as a sort of corollary of the late dispensary law. It was in the nature of the arrest of Vincent Chicco, the Italian delicatassen dealer, who was the first vic-tim of the dispensary law in the city, and who was frequently raided under the dis-pensary law. Immediately subsequent to the decision of the supreme court declaring the dispensary law unconstitutional, a re-porter in one of the city papers published an alleged interview with Chicco, in which the latter was reported as declaring in the elation of the moment that he knew the law was unconstitutional and that he had been selling liquor all the time. Governor Tillman's attention being attracted by the statement, and it appearing to him that there was a discrepancy betaken to the effect that he had not sold any liquor since the dispensary law went into effect in order to retain a refund of $50 in the year's license which he had originally taken out, he (the governor) last week sent down peremptory orders to the county treasurer, Mr. Walters, to have proceedings entered against Chicco for perjury. The case was heard before a justice today. Chicco was defended by

Mr. George S. Legare.

The principal witness was a reporter for The Sun, who testified that in an interview with Chicco some time ago Chicco declared to him (the witness) that he had been selling liquor during the time the dispensary law was in effect. Mr. George S. Legare, the counsel for Chicco, held that the word "liquor" did not mean whisky only; it referred to all kinds of liquors, and on this ground Mr. Legare held that the evidence given was not sufficient. Mr. Legare said that Chicco had mentioned that he had sold liquor, not specifying any particular liquor. The judge, after reviewing the case, held that there was not sufficient evidence to convict Chicco and dismissed the case.

Man Charged with Horse Stealing

Disappears on the Eve of Trial. Hattiesburg, Miss., May 29.-(Special.)-Hattiesburg was treated to a genuine sensation this morning by the mysterious disappearance of Ray Coy, whose case was to have been called today for horse stealing. Coy was employed at Kelly's sawmill as night watchman and it was his duty as night watchman to blow the whistle to call the men to work every morning. The whistle failing to blow, the day fireman went to the mill and saw Coy's hat and coat saturated with blood. The ground showed evidence of a scramble. A 38-caliber bullet was found lodged in a post hard by these, tending to show that if assassinated it was the work of two med. Coy was a man of good sense and shrewd, and the opinion prevails that he skipped to avoid going to trial. Judge A. G. Mayers called the case and took a forfeiture against Coy's bondsmen. The bond was $500.

May Die.

Greenville, S. C., May 29,—(Special.)—A sad shooting affair took place this morning six miles above Greenville in which Marion Lock, a sixteen-year-old boy, received his death wound. About 6 o'clock this morning Mr. Lock sent a colored man, Milton John son, upstairs to wake his son to get ready for breakfast. The colored man woke the boy. Seeing a revolver on the mantle, in a spirit of playfulness, he took it, pointed it at the boy's head. Unfortunately the revolver was self-cocking and the negro, the trigger and the bullet crashed into the boy's head. Several physicians have examined the victim and pronounce the case hopeless. The negro is almost wild on account of the deed, as he was very much attached to the boy. The parents exonerate Johnson from any intent to hurt their son.

WALTHALL'S LETTER.

The Senator Makes a Plea for Party

Memphis, Tenn., May 29.—The Commercial this morning publishes an open letter from Senator E. C. Walthall, of Mississippi, in which he urges democrats to stand together in support of President Cleveland's admin-istration. Although he is in favor of the free coinage of silver, Senator Walthall says he believes it is suicidal for democrats tion when there are so many other question of equal importance, the tariff, for instance, to be acted upon. In closing his letter he makes a strong plea for party unity. The continued supremacy of the democratic ty in the southern states is of parame nocratic parimportance, he says, and democrats should bury side issues and support the president.

IT WAS A FAKE DUEL

A Lawyer and a Newspaper Man Put do a Sham Fight.

WERE THEIR WEAPONS

Red Ink Was Used to Give the Appearance of Blood. REV. TOM DIXON CONDEMNS FLOWER

The Governor Was Doing Very Well a' Last Accounts—Brooklynites Cannot Keep Out of the Trolley's Way.

New York, May 28 .- (Special Correspondence.)-Two or three of our big dailjer have been taken in by a mock duel in Boston the other night. A party of newspaper men got it up to test the courage of two young men who were always boasting of their fighting qualities. The principals were Delos Goldsmith, night manager of the City Press Association, and John Crowley, a young lawyer. Two weeks ago a story that these two men were at odds over a young lady was circulated. The two youths whose fighting talk had aroused doubts as to their real courage heard the story, with substantial additions, and were asked to act as seconds for Goldsmith. Both accepted. Crowley's seconds had been let into the secret. The two victims were given daily hints of the coming struggle for gore. One backed out, and another green second had to be secured for Goldsmith. Both principals practiced fencing in Crowley's office. The party took two carriages Sunday and drove to a lonely spot beyond the smallpox hospital. Another newspaper man who had got a hint of the duel, but who did not know that it was a mock affair, followed in a third carriage to get a "big scoop." The hackmen were told the secret and they obligingly arranged the carriages so that the combatants could have light from the carriage lamps. After the preliminary steps had been taken the foils were produced, but the green seconds did not notice that the ends were rendered harmless by buttons. Goldsmith's seconds tried to dissuade the principals from fighting, but when they failed they showed grit enough to stick it out, and later one of them tried to sell the story to the newspapers. The reporter who had followed viewed the combat from behind a clump of bushes. It had been arranged that the lawyer should fall wounded, and in order to pro-vide blood one of the seconds put red ink on his fingers and the other produced a handkerchief saturated with red liquid.

This evidence frightened Goldsmith's seconds. They hustled him into their car-riage and back to the city, where they deserted him after accompanying him to his office.

The bloody handkerchief was thrown into the road, where it was pounced upon by the reporter to bolster up his scoop. Gold-smith's night assistants at the City Press Association had not been informed of the affair, but they kept their ears open, and when Crowley's seconds visited the office and acknowledged "satisfaction," the man in charge sent out a story of the mysterious duel, suppressing the names.

Goldsmith's hair stood on end when he learned today that his own staff had been fooled. If required a good deal of explanation to convince the police that the affair was a hoax, but the absence of wounds on the principals was sufficient.

Governor Flower Denounced. The Rev. Thomas I mon vesterday morning at Association hall severely condemned Governor Flower's veto of the police investigation bill. The hall was crowded to its fullest capacity, and Mr. Dixon was even more than usually ve-hement in his denunciation of the alleged corruption of the police department, as ex-posed by Dr. Parkhurst. He said in part.

"The function of the governor is simply one of restraint upon legislation which is unconstitutional in its character. But in this veto the governor went out of his way to act as the champion of the police board. He declared in so many words that the investigation of the police department. the investigation of the police department of New York would be a piece of partisan legislation. Well, if the police department of New York is a partisan institution, the question is, what made it so? This department, of all others, should be further re-moved from political influence. It should be strictly non-partisan. Now, if the governor vetoes the appropriation bill for investigat-ing the department it is an acknowledge-ment that it has been running in the interest of a clique, and that it does not represent the people of New York, but that i.s machinery is being used for partisan purposes. Its machinery has been used for personal aggrandizement in the past, and is being so used at present.

"It was a serious mistake for the gover-nor to veto that bill. The police department is now under a cloud. It has been convicted at the bar of public sentiment; whether rightly or wrongfully it stands convicted of corruption and connivance with crime. That being the case, there should be no harm in allowing the appropriation for necessary expenses of investigating it. The governor put himself alongside the department, alongside the accusations against it— a department which stands necessarily con-demned by those who believe the accusations of Dr. Parkhurst proved. And any one who has followed him knows that they are proved. The governor should have recommended $50,000 if necessary, rather than $25,000, for the purpose of investigating the department. If the governor means by his veto that he can stave off the coming moral cyclone he is mistaken. It is in the air. There is not enough power in the ex-ecutive chamber, there is not enough power in Tammany hall, to keep the gathering wrath of the people from bursting at last over this great city, and it will make it a sweeter and better place."

A Horrible Spectacle.

The week's record of victims of the Brooklyn trolley numbered a dozen last night, when a pretty little four-year-old boy was added to the list. The child was Charles Johnson, son of an engineer, living at 59 President street. He had been watching

The girl had hold of her little brother's hand and they were returning home at 5:20 o'clock when death separated them. Annie, with her brother stood at the crossing, corner of Columbia and President streets, waiting for a crossiown car to pass. When it did so the children started across

When it did so the children started across the up track. Car No. 3,419 came bowling along on its way to Erie basin.

Annie saw the car and stepped back off the track. She tried to pull her little brother with her. She was not quick enough, for the car struck the little fellow, tearing film away and dragging him beneath the wheels and cutting his head completely off. The body was tossed twenty feet away. Half a dozen policemen, returning from the parade, were on the ill-fated car and they all witnessed the accident.

Reports to the Department. Birmingham, Ala., May 29.—(Special.)— Rober: Charlson, who for two years was zederal commissioner at Attalla, Ala., was today convicted in the United States court for presenting false accounts to the government and was sentenced to one year's imprisonment. He appealed to the United States court and gave a bond of $1,000. Thore are four other similar charges against him, for which he is being tried. This trial is the result of an examination into the conduct of north Alabama commissioners made by Special Examiners Cowart and Chambers, under the direction of the at-torney general. This trial has created the greatest of all sensations in Alabama's courts. There are six other commissioners and deputy United States marshals under similar indictments. They will be tried by Judge Boarman, from Louisiana.

The team of ball players Ted Sullivan is leading over the south went up against a Nashville crowd yesterday.

And, of course, Nashville won.
The team presented in the official score shows that Manager Sullivan has a new man in left field and that Smith is playing t shortstop.
The new man in left is Long, and it is to be presumed that it is Jimmy Long, who wore an Atlanta uniform a few years ago. However, the press dispatch does not say that it is Jimmy Long, and until some authentic announcement to that effect comes, no one can be sure that it is Jimmy Long, or say other Long.

The score, though showing Smith at short, does not on its face tell why Hollohan was not in the game. That same Hollohan is one of the best ball players in the outh, and when he is out of the game he south, and when he is out of the game he is missed very much.

It was rumored in Atlanta yesterday that Manager Sullivan was trying to buy the Macon team outright, so that he could go to the bottom of the league without being thumped there.

But the story of Sullivan's seventh defeat since leaving home, where he sustained so many like it, is best told by The Constitution's Nashville correspondent.

How Nashville Won. Nashville, Tenn., May 29.—(Special.)—At-lanta looked like a winner today when she went out and scored seven runs in the first three innings while Nashville pulled only two. Flynn went in to pitch for Nashville, but Atlanta batted him so hard that he was taken out and Moran was substituted, and the result was that Atlanta was thereafter held down. Atlanta played a fine fielding game. Only one error was made, and that by Long, after a long and hard run. After the end of the fifth inning, when the game stood seven to four in favor of At-lanta, a rain cloud came up, but, much to the disappointment of the visitors, it passed away without interrupting the game. Then Nashville made four runs and led the score the next inning.

Score by innings:

New Orleans 10, Savannah 2. New Orleans, May 29.—(Special.)—A large crowd it was that saw the game between New Orleans and Savannah this afternoon. The Georgians played hard, but could not win. The game was characterized by hard kicking throughout, Duke taking the leading part. This erratic twirler, who formerly pitched for the Pelicans, was given an ovation when he appeared on the ball field. He thoroughly disgusted the spectators, however, by his display of ill temper in the fitth inning, when he left the pitcher's hox and went over to the coaching lines and tried to pick a fight with Right Fielder Flood, of the local club. Incidentally Mr. Duke pitched a very rocky game. He was batted safely nine times, gave eight men bases on balls, hit three and made a general failure of the whole business. Braum pitched stadily for the locals and was supurbly supported. Score.

Exposition Officers Greatly Pleased a the Appropriation Bill.

It is coming our way. The news received from Washington yesterday made everything bright and rosy about exposition headquarters, everybody was happy over the favorable report by the subcommittee and the advices received through Colonel Livingston and other friends at the capitol indicated that the subcommittee's action would meet with favor on all sides.

"We are very much pleased indeed with the situation," said President Collier, "I am sure that it is not saying too much to claim that favorable action by the house and senate on the lines indicated by that report will absolutely insure the success of the exposition. The government's stamp of approval will give it the international standing which is essential to its success and the government exhibit will unques tionably be a feature which will add great ly to the exposition and will be a great drawing card. You can say that we are all enthused and all happy over the outlook. We see nothing whatever now in the way of the success of the exposition, and that gives us confidence and energy which will go a long way toward making it a great success."

Director General Palmer talked in the same line. He left during the afternoon for Augusta, where he goes to attend the immigration convention. He is one of the delegates from this district, and while he is primarily very much in favor and very much nterested in the movement, he is also going in the interest of the exposition. It is probable that there will be at this convention several governors as well as strong delegations from the other southern states, and the delegates will be men who can, if personally interested, do a very great deal toward insuring the success of the exposi-

There have already been many ap-plications for space and a large number of assurances have been received from dif-ferent interests indicating a disposition on the part of all to be practically represented at the exposition. As soon as the house acts upon the report of its appropriations committee things will boom.

A Plot of Negroes to Assault White Women.

A Plot of Negroes to Assault White Women.

Palatka, Fla., May 29.—The people of this section are very much excited over the discovery of a diabolical conspiracy among the negroes to commit a series of our uses upon white women. The particulars are that about eight weeks ago a negro preacher, by the name of I. T. Burgis, came to the turpentine stills in the neighborhood of Putnam Hail and procured employment. After becoming acquainted with the colored employes ne made damaging remarks about the daughters of a farmer living near by, and proposed to the negroes that they should commit an assault upon this girl and several other white women. It is understood that several negroes agreed to the pian and that preparations were being made to carry it into effect.

Fortunately the white people got a hint of the conspiracy and began to make an investigation. They secured evidence that such a conspiracy did exist and they took steps to guard their homes. In the meanwhile the negroes learned that their diabolical plan was known and secretly they began to leave the country. One of those to leave was Burgis, who had suggested the outrages upon the women. He fied just in time to escape from a number of white men who had gone to secure him. It was learned that Burgis had gone to Georgia, and the father of the young lady whom Burgis had so vilely slandered swore out a warrant against the negro. The Georgia authorities were communicated with and Burgis was arrested. A Florida officer left to secure the negro Sunday. The officer started to this friend's house, but had not proceeded more than half a mile when he was suddenly confronted by between seventy-five or one hundred mounted men. They covered him with guns and rifles and demanded the prisoner. Being overpowered, there was no other alternative but to give him up, and next morning Burgis was seen hanging from a limb two miles from the place where he was taken from Deputy Lane.

Burgis is described as being about forty-five years of age, six feet high and weigh-ing about 180 p

Burgis is described as being about forty-five years of age, six feet high and weighing about 180 pounds. He confessed to Mr. Lane that the report he circulated about the farmer's daughter was untrue, but he made the remark about her to interest the negroes in his damnable undertaking.

Mr. Caffery said he did not know of Mr. Havemeyer ever having been before the finance committee or any subcommittee. Mr. Caffery characterized the story that there was a meeting at the capitol on Sunday and a protracted struggle over the sugar schedule between the representatives of the sugar trust and the members of the finance committee, at which he was present, as absolutely false. Ben Lefevre, also mentioned, stated emphatically that he had never been in the employ of the sugar trust, did not know some of the men mentioned, and had not been at the capitol or elsewhere with them. There was, he said, so far as he was concerned, absolutely no foundation for any part of the statement in which his name had

AT CRIPPLE CREEK

A Heavy Rain Tends to Keep Everything Quiet.

Cripple Creek, Colo., May 29.—Since 2 o'clock this afternoon the mining district dof Cripple Creek has been under the wet blanket of a hard, steady rainstorm. Every thing is quiet in the various camps tonight and no special movement has been made since this morning either by the miners or deputies.

All sorts of wild rumors have been affoat here today as usual, but since the skirmish last night between the pickets of the deputies and the reconnoitering miners on deputies and the reconnoltering miners on horseback, hear Hayden, in which three miners were taken prisoners, no fighting has taken place. Both sides seem to be waiting until after the governor's visit to the miners' stronghold at Altman tomor-row afternoon before again taking up the fight. The miners have made arrangements to meet the governor. Early this morning a party of the miners descended upon the little town of Barry or Anaconda and went through all the houses after firearms. It is said that they were after several men against whom they had grudges, and these movements had the effect of sending a number of prominent min-ing men out of the district. The miners this afternoon decided that no newspape men should hereafter be allowed within the Sumter County Wants Both Candidates to Speak There Before Delegates Are Chosen-Evans at Eatonton Today.

Cuthbert. Ga., May 29 .- (Special.)-Randolph county selected Evans delegates in mass meeting today. The meeting was the largest held in the county for years. There was great excitement but the best of harmony and good will prevailed. General Eyans's friends estimate his majority at from 100 to 150. No count of his side was made. Atkinson's friends numbered probably 150.

Evans's strength was tested in electing the chairman. The Atkinson men took their defeat good naturedly. They admit their defeat by from fifty to seventy-five votes. A new executive committee was elected Resolutions were unanimously adopted declaring their loyalty and fealty to the party and the Chicago platform. President Cleveland and his administration were endorsed, and so were the statehouse officers. Hon. H. G. Turner was endorsed for the United for the Vacancy. Americus, Ga., May 29.—(Special.)—The county judgeship race between Messrs. Pillsbury and Lumpkin was further intensified today by the action of the grand jury in unanimously endorsing Judge Pillsbury and wiring their action to Governor Northen.

The Atkinson men received news here today that their candidate would speak in Americus on June 6th, two days before the Sumter county primary. The Evans men have been trying for several days to ar-range a date for General Evans, but have not yet heard from him. Americus was much disappointed in not getting one of the four joint debates and would like to have both candidates speak here before the cam-

MADE A STIR.

Glynn's Democrats Are Discussing a Populist's Statement.

Brunswick, Ga., May 29.—(Special.)—The publication sent exclusively by The Constitu-tion's correspondent, yesterday, that Judge John J. Speer, a recent delegate to the third party convention in Atlanta, claimed to have been provided with some funds to meet the expenses of his trip by two members of the present democratic executive committee of Glynn, created considerable interest here today. No published denial committee of Glynn, created considerable interest here today. No published denial has yet been made by any member of the committee, but several members claim that one of the parties charged will publi sh a positive denial with proof of his innocence. Chairman S. C. Atkinson, of the executive committee, in an interview today, stated that the committee was named in good that the committee was named in good that the committee was named in 300d faith and is composed of true and loyal democrats. He stated further that "the only way in which a man can judge a man's political faith is by taking his own word for it. Every man on the executive committee, by being present at the demo-cratic mass meeting, and by accepting the nomination for such membership, acknowlnomination for such membership, acknowledged that he was a democrat himself." In reply to another question, he said: "I see nothing for the committee to invstigate. The committee was elected by the democracy, and the democracy, not the committee, will have to do the investigating."

It is not improbable, however, that the executive committee will investigate the charges, and the day muned will probably Hon. J. O. Waddell.

From The Athens, Ga., Banner.
It was, indeed, gratifying to the many friends of Colonel J. O. Waddell to meet him again in Athens, with which place his eventful and successful career and, in-deed, his whole life history is so closely

Athens was the home of his illustrious Athens was the nome of his hundred ancestors. The eminent Dr. Moses Waddeli was the first president of our State university, whose decided and progressive work as an educator built up and set fully on foot the institution which has become the pride of our state and a fundamental interest of our city. The career of this great educator was followed by other deendants of this noted family who have left behind them a record which will reflect luster upon their names so long as the State university shall be an institution of learning. Colonel Waddell himself is an alumnus of this institution. When Georgia seceded from the union in 1861 he was in attendance upon college here, and in April of that year enlisted in the Troup Artilery, and went to the war as an Atbens boy. No better or more gallant soldier ever went to war from this or any other place. It is an admitted fact of history that a section (two guns) of the Troup Artillery, while fighting at Crampton's Gap, held Franklin's corps in check, and thus saved Lee's army from disaster and defeat. Colonel Waddell was gunner, saving one of his cyre, and during the engagement. of his guns, and during the engagement of his gurs, and during the engagement was fearfully wounded, and fell into the hands of the enemy.

Though conspicuous in all of the many battles in which he engaged, yet he was especially conspicuous and heroically gallant in that memorable light, and received the praise and appliause of his commanding officers. After serving for two years with the Troup Artillery, he was then transferred to the infantry service to be his brother, Colonel James D. Waddell, who commanded the Twentieth Georgia regiment, and was promoted to the rank of adjutant. No ex-confederate in Georgia has a braver or more gallant record than Colonel Waddell, or wears more honorable wounds. Colonel Waddell is offering before the people of Georgia as a candidate for the people of Georgia as a candidate for commissioner of agriculture. While not disparaging the claims of other candidates for this responsible position, yet when considering the fact that Colonel Waddell has four times been elected president of the Georgia State Agricultural Society, thus giving him long and familiar contact with the practical agriculture and agriculturists of Georgia it would seem that he was most eminently fitted for the position of com-missioner of agriculture. He certainly has peculiar claims upon Clarke county, and it would be but a most fitting tribute to his merit for this old county to honor her soldier boy with a unanimous vote for the position he will undoubtedly so worthily and so successfully fill.

STATE POLITICAL GOSSIP.

Mr. Cobb Writes About the Race. Editor Constitution-I desire to say a word about the gubernatorial race. In the convention that nominates there will be so far been instructed, and the fight lies in the future. The policy of Atkinson and his friends has been to lump and rush forward his counties while holding back and putting off those for Evans. This they were enabled to do because they have most of the county executive committees. In such counties as Burke and Spalding, etc., which were certain to act for Evans, through "the men who control" they put them off till July. Out of the counties they jerked forward and counted upon dead sure, Evans captured Hall and Telfair. From now on Evans will take the lead. Lowndes instructed for him yesterday and Randolph will doubtless do so today. At the end of this week Atkinson's slight majority will have dwindled and next week it will disappear. His greatest strength has been exhausted in the beginning and he counts on influencing future counties by the spirit manifested at the start. In Baldwin, where Atkinson expected everything, because of the school he claims to have fathered, he barely scraped a majority, and even that is contested; his friends feared to give the people a show in Oconee, and in all the counties he carried it was by but small majorities. On the contrary, Evan's counties have given him overwhelming numbers, which means Atkinson is fighting terribly for all he gets, while Evans's strength is safe by heavy majorities. It is possible for Evans to capture Atkinson to overcome Evans's overwhelming majorities. The people are for General Evans and they cannot be fooled by temporary advantages gained by slick and deseprate "ixing." The fight has but begun when only 98 out of 350 votes have so far been instructed; and out of that 98 Evans already has 40 votes, having captured two of Atkinson's strongholds (Hall and Telfair), and the Atkinson men know that General Evans has absolutely every advantage in the fight for those 252 votes yet to be instructed. Let both sides fight fair, for we can win with either candidate. Harmony is what democrats want just now. terday and Randolph will doubtless do so today. At the end of this week Atkinson's Harmony is what democrats was w. THOMAS R. R. COBB.

Mr. Calvin Writes. Hon. Martin P. Calvin, candidate for com-missioner of agriculture, has written an open letter addressed to the democratic voters of Georgia in which he undertakes to show that under the present regime the department of agriculture is not selfsustaining. Mr. Calvin begins by saying that a studied effort is being made to induce the people to believe that Commission er Nesbitt has made the department self-sustaining, and that this is based on the commissioner's statement that the "fees from the inspection of fertilizers and oils inder this department are more than ample to meet the entire amount expended for its support." Mr. Calvin points out that the moneys received from the inspections goes into the school fund, and does not actually go to meet the expenses of the de-partment. The salaries of the commissioner and his clerk are a direct charge to the state and come out of the treasury, and not out of the fertilizer fees. He says it is true that Commissioner Nesbitt has reduced the compensation of the tertinzer inspect ors, but has increased their number, thus getting "double the number of gentlemen who must feel a very deep, active and salaried interest in his retention in office."
Mr. Calvin refers to the annual appropriation of $10,000 to the department, stating that there is no evidence of desire on the part of Colonel Nesbitt to cut that down. He criticises the expenditures of 1892, and says that practically nothing has been done toward accomplishing the grand objects of the department. He says: "If one-half of the time and money expended in getting up comparative reports of the growing crops-information valuable to speculators only-had been devoted to the broad pur-poses of the department, it might be said that something had been done toward accomplishing its great mission." fers especially to the preparation of valuable information. He says the monthly reports are no good to the farmers and but home to the speculators. He refers at length to the absolute impossibility to get anything like adequate information concern-ing the resources of Georgia. "Better ap-Ing the resources of Georgia. "Better apply the money now being wasted on reports of growing crops," he says, "to the preparation and publication of bulletins that will attract attention to stock raising, drainage.

done; report what the farmers of Georgia have accomplished."

Mr. Calvin says this is but one of the Saults of the department as at present managed. "If I should be called to the commissionership." he concludes, "I would wipe out the monthly reports valuable to specuout the monthly reports valuable to speculators only, and I would tell in 1895 of the crops made in 1894 instead. I would use a fair portion of the annual appropriation of $10,000 each year to bring the department up to the high standard of usefulness set for it by the framers of the act of 1874. I would track that statute and thus exalt Georgia in the eyes of all her sisters."

The Brunswick Times-Advertiser takes this view of Saturday's mass meeting in Glynn: "If the hard work of the friends of Mr. Atkinson in mustering the mass meet ing of yesterday is considered successful, the friends of General Evans certainly have cause of good feelings. If the Evans men of Glynn go out and vote next Thursday the county will elect Evans delegates. If the convention of yesterday was intended as a crusher it was a failure. The Times-Advertiser believes more than ever that the Glynn democracy is for Evans."

The Camilla Clarion strikes home when it says: "We want no Atkingon men and no Evans men after the nomination is over, but a harmonious and enthusiastic army of democrats, ready and willing to do battle for democracy and its principles."

EXONERATED BY HIS CLUB.

Colonel Waring Was Simply Giving Pointers on the Cost. Savannah, Ga., May 29.-(Special.)-The report of the committee appointed by President W. W. Osborne, of the Citizens' Club, to investigate the charges against Mr. Waring Russell that he had attempted to parter the nomination of the club for the senatorship from this district to Mr. R. D. Guerard for $5,000, was read to the club tonight and was unanimously adopted. It exonerates Russell of the charge made and vindicates him from all charges of improper conduct. In reference to the conversation with Mr. Guerard in which $5,000 was mentioned, the finding was that Mr. Russell simply mentioned it as the probable amount that would be required to pay the expenses of Mr. Guerard's nomination and election The report also exonerates Mr. Guerard from charges of any improper conduct. No one besides the men reported yes terday as qualifying for sharpshooters and marksmen qualified. The band did very good shooting. Their average was a little over 14 per cent. The highest score on the skirmish was made by Private Sanders, of the band, who made 27 out of a possible 50. Lieutenant Satterlee says that if it is clear-ly demonstrated during the next tour of duty that the standard is too high, it will be reduced next year, as it would be useless to go on shooting with only a few qualifying each year. But it will not be reduced too low. A trial was made with the new gun this afternoon. The penetration of the arm is certainly very great. A shot was fired at an cak tree growing beside the range. The bullet passed entirely through the tree which was about thirty inches in ATLANTA, GA., May 30, 1894.

The Government and the Exposition The information is received from Wash-Ington that the subcommittee of the appropriations committee of the house, to which was referred for special investigation and report, the bill looking to a government building and exhibit at the Cotton States and International exposition, has unanimously agreed to recommend an appropriation of $200,000 for this purpose. This is exceedingly gratifying and gives increased hope and encouragement for the exposition.

The subcommittee, which has been considering the bill for two weeks, was appointed by Chairman Sayres, of the appropriations committee, and consists of Messrs. Livingston of Georgia, Brookshire of Indiana, and Robertson of Louisiana, democrats, and Cogswell of Massachusetts, and Cannon of Illinois, republicans. The committee has had several sessions and has investigated the matter in every detail. The bill recommended appropriates $50,000 for the transfer of the great government building at the world's fair, from Chicago to Atlanta, if it can be done within this amount, and, If not, a new building will be erected. It also appropriates $150,000 for the installation and administration of the government exhibit. The government building at Chicago cost $375,000 and its removal to Atlanta is considered not only feasible, but advisable. If this is accomplished it will be seen that, with the original cost of the government building the appropriation will amount to considerably more than $500,000.

The committee on appropriations will soon be called together to act on the report of the subcommittee, and it is believed that the bill will go to the house with its unanimous recommendation, in which event its passage by the house will simply be a question of time, and short time at that.

Congressman Livingston, chairman of the subcommittee, has worked zealously in behalf of the success of the measure, and fully merits the cordial telegram of thanks sent him yesterday by President Collier, of the exposition, who asked him to continue his highly creditable efforts and urge as speedy action as possible in order that the bill may be sent to the senate to receive the consideration of that body without unnecessary delay.

To Georgia's entire representation in congress the exposition is greatly indebted for the favor with which the proposition has been received, and the active efforts of our senators and representatives, as well as the cordial interest of Secretary Smith, induces the belief that there is no possible doubt that the bill will soon become a law, and that The great exposition to be held in Atlanta sext year will receive the federal recogaition so essential to enable us to place he great movement on the vast international scope planned for it.

The outlook is promising indeed, and if congress does its part, as now seems certain, we will have in Atlanta next year the greatest exposition ever held in the southern states, and one which, in the practical and substantial results that will follow, will be of more direct benefit to the whole country in the extension of its trade relations than any exposition ever held in the United States.

What Is the Explanation?

The Financier, of New York, under the head of "Straws," prints the following interesting information:

imports of merchandise from January May 17th were $35,716,633, and $37,502,770 were withdrawn from the custom house dur-ing the same time. Breadstuffs exports during ten months ending April 30th, were valued at $143,256,115. Foreign banks report nearly $75,000,000 more gold and silver than one year ago. Not a single week has passed this year that the Bank of England did not gain $175,000 in gold. We imported $40, 968,000 more gold than we exported during ten months preceding April 30th, and ex-ported $31,565,000 more silver than we imduring the same time. Exports of since January 1st exceed imports about $31,000,000. The total balance of trade in our favor with foreign countries during ten months prior to April 30th was $228,012,962, against a debit balance of $8,563,945 the pre-reding similar period. Our gold reduction about equals England's gain.

In its editorial columns The Times

In its editorial columns The Financier makes no definite allusion to this remarkable situation; and yet it seems to us that it is the duty of a professed financial expert never to rest until he has explained it at least to his own sat-Isfaction. But the expert who edits The Financier doesn't even make an attempt in that direction. The truth is, there has been and is now a tendency on the part of all the financial writers to avoid explaining the re markable phenomena that have followed the establishment of the single gold standard in this country. There is certainly nothing more remarkable in our economic history than, the fact that we have been sending out gold during the present month. Our exports have exceeded our imports, as The Financier shows, by a considerable sum, and yet we are exporting gold. The treasury reserve has been reduced from $106,000, 000 to something less than $$0,000,000, and every dollar of it has been exported.

The Financial Chronicle says it is because we have "an inelastic currency." But a little while ago, it said that the Sherman law was the cause. We have had the inelastic currency for more than thirty years, and the Sherman law has been repealed.

The truth is, the gold is going out because we have the single gold standard. Under the operations of that system the treasury pays out gold on the demand of the note holder, and thus opens the treasury vaults to foreign bankers. There will have to be another issue of bonds if the reserve is to be maintained, #### and this means more taxation for the Senator Walthall's Letter.

Senator Walthall has written a very important letter to his constituents in Mississippi in which he makes an appeal for harmony in the party. The senator's letter is important for the reason that he bases his plea on grounds which all democrats can understand and which they can all endorse. He declares that although he is in favor of the free coinage of silver, he believes it is suicidal for democrats to fall out and fight over the financial questions when party unity is of paramount importance in the southern states. Senator Walthall says that while he is for free coinage, he is the loyal friend of the administration.

As we have said, the grounds on which Senator Walthall bases his plea for party harmony and unity are such as all democrats can appreciate. The Constitution has contended that it would be fatal to democratic harmony to place themselves in the position of endorsing a policy that they did not believe inthe demonetization of silver and the seigniorage veto. The Alabama democrats untangled that skein in the most candid way. They endorsed the administration, but did not retreat from their position on the financial question.

Senator Walthall does not place himself in a false position before his people, nor does he ask them to place themselves in a false position before the country. He is for the free coinage of silver, and he knows that the democrats of his state are for it, nor would he have them declare to the contrary, but he urges them not to seek issue with the administration though disagreeing with it in this and other details.

The Constitution can see no reason why the democrats of Mississippi should not follow the advice of their senator, especially when they can do so without surrendering any of their convictions or beliefs.

There never was a time when party harmony and party unity were more necessary in the south than now. An endorsement of the administration such as Senator Walthall has suggested-such as the democrats of Alabama gave-does not affect the financial issue in the slight est degree. It does not alter the attitude of the south as regards silver coinage. It leaves it to continue its fight for bimetallism.

Harmony is essential. Without that there will never be a settlement of any

A New English Craza.

We have already referred to the sensation created in England by a black woman named Ida B. Wells, who is lecturing against lynch law in the south. As this woman has succeeded in winning many people, clergymen and newspapers in England over to her side, and as her horrible stories of southern brutality are likey to have a wide circulation among our enemies, it is well to have the cause of her hostility towards the south explained.

The Wells woman wrote editorials for a colored newspaper in Memphis about two years ago, and was run out of the state for writing the following:

Nobody in this section (the south) believes the old threadbare lie that negro men crimassault white women. If southern men are not careful they will over-themselves, and public sentiment will have a reaction; a conclusion will then be reached which will be very damaging to the reputation of their wom

She went north and lectured and then proceeded to England where she draws big audiences and easily fills her purse. The London Chronicle says of her lec-ourselves whether the southern states are really fitted for self-government; whether people who outrage the most elementary rights of humanity are fitted to be fellow citizens of the same commonwealth with the descendants of the Pugrim Fathers. Not that these latter are wholly innocent. In the old days of slavery it took the north a long time to perceive its criminal nature; and now there is not in the north that burning hatred of this atrocious lynching which we might expect from those who coast so loudly of their enlightenment and liberty. If the north cannot be relied on to lead the way in overthrowing the lynching of negroes, how may that end be best attained? By rousing a sentiment which shall in due time reach the consciences of the better element in the southern states. To effect a change should be the self-chosen task of the Christian churches of the United States, and to provoke those churches to such a good work is the function of the re-ligious leaders of this old country, which, amid all her vices and sins, has never permitted the foot of a slave to rest up

This eruption of British indignation is all the more remarkable when we think of the English outrages in every country invaded or conquered by them. Only a few months ago a newspaper in south Africa in a British settlement contained numerous stories of the cruel treatment of negroes by Englishmen. A Cape Colony judge told a man who was tried before him for killing four negroes that he had made a mistake in not killing more of them. The laws in that colony rohibit negroes from carrying walking sticks or weapons of any kind. On one occasion sixty negroes were publicly flogged to the point of death because they attempted to walk on the sidewalk used by the whites

With this record of their own wrongdoing before them, the British are shedding tears over the alleged cruelty of the southern whites to the blacks, and are petting and pampering the vicious negress who was driven from Memphis on account of her foul libels upon the women of the south.

The people on the other side of the water are belated with their crusade, Even in the north it is now admitted that lynching is not a sectional crime. Nor is it directed against any one race. It is the wild justice of people who are provoked by some exceptional crime, but in every section lynching is under the ban of the law and of public optnion. Our officials and newspapers are working hard to suppress the evil, and the exaggerated stories told by the Wells woman have very little foundation.

But the friends of Ida Wells in England do not deserve a serious or a respectful answer until they first make an effort to stop the inhuman treatment of negroes in south Africa by the British colonists. When they have accomplished a reform in that quarter they can talk to us with better grace.

Democratic Duty.

In the course of his admirable speech on the tariff bill, Senator Walsh made the following remarks on the silver ques

While it is desirable to secure the remonetization of silver by internationa agreement, still, if the opportunity offered I would not hesitate to vote for free coin age with or without international agree nt, believing that the immense resources d productive energies of this country would enable our government to sustain it on a parity with gold, and compel recogni-tion for it from the enlightened govern-ments of Europe. If our census returns be correct, and I take it for granted they are, the decade from 1880 to 1890 shows the most marvelous growth in population and wealth in the history of the world. The increase in population has been from 50,000,000 to 62,000,000, or 24 per cent, and the increase in wealth from $43,600,000,000 to $65,000,000,000, ed States ought to be in a position to es tablish and maintain its own financial poliy, as it does its republican form of governof the nations of Eu-

I agree with the senator from Pennsylvania (Mr. Cameron), that "if the States would cut herself adrift from Europe and take outright to silver, she would have all America and Asia at her back, and would command the markets of both contiwould command the harkets of both contents. The barrier of gold would be more fatal than any barrier of a custom house. The bond of silver would be stronger than any bond of free trade."

Then the senator quoted an extract from

The Financial News of London to the effect that if the United States were to adopt a silver basis tomorroy British trade would be ruined before the year was out.

It is refreshing and wholesome to hear such a straightforward declaration in favor of a democratic principle and a platform pledge-particularly at this time when so many men are hedging and dodging and quibbling. There never was a time when the democrats of the country were more in need of information as to the attitude of those whom they have chosen to be their leaders. They see men, who for twenty years have professed to be in favor of the remonetiaztion of silver as one of the essentials of democratic policy and of the country's prosperity, dodging behind meaningless phrases, twisting the plain language of the platform out of all shape. and apparently ready to surrender their convictions.

We do not know that Senator Walsh's manly and democratic declaration will are proceeding with alacrity to an equivocal endorsement of the single gold standard. But we do know that it will be received with gratitude by the people who put faith in their party's pledges, and who are now experiencing some of the appalling results of the single gold stand-

From the day the discovery was made that the republicans had surreptitiously demonetized silver, the democratic party has pledged itself to undo that crime. In its national conventions, in its state conventions, in its newspapers and in the declarations of its recognized leaders, it has pledged itself to the people to remonetize silver and thus enlarge our currency basis to fit the demands of our trade, our industries, and our enterprise. It has pledged itself to reopen the mints to silver and to restore our currency to its old status-to the status that existed from 1792 to the day the demonetization act was smuggled through by the republican leaders in 1873.

In the little extract we have quoted from his speech. Senator Walsh repre sents thoroughly the democratic principle and the democratic promise to the people in the matter of the restoration of silver as a part of the standard money of the country. And the people will hail his strong and unequivocal utterances at this time when so many men whom they have trusted, and whose courage and candor they have admired, stand hesitating, doubtful and with hushed voices, in the presence of a great issue—the greatest issue the people have ever been called on to settle by the ballet.

The issue is upon us and it cannot be evaded. The pressure of it is upon every man, woman and child in the land, upon all business, upon all forms of industry, upon all the forces and energies that make a people prosperous and contented, and upon those who earn their living by the labor of their hands. The people cannot escape this issue if they would. and the party will be compelled to recognize its overwhelming importance before many months have gone by.

Democrats cannot evade the issue no settle it by denouncing the administration or criticising it; they cannot evade it nor settle it by endorsing or approving what has or has not been done. The money question stands by itself as the most important of all the issues the people are called on to consider and settle, and before another twelve months have rolled around this fact will become so plain that no man can fail to see it, even though he be a fool and blind.

Let not democrats be led away from the real issue by idle and unnecessary controversies over the administration or fts policy. Let them endorse Mr. Cleveland's honesty and his integrity as heartily as they choose; but let them also see to it that their representatives in congress and in the legislature stand for the democratic principle of a gold and silver currency basis. Let them see to it that these representatives are men in whom they can put their trust and who will not surrender to any pressure the gold trust may be able to bring to bear on them after they have entered upon their du-

Let democrats see to it that this great issue is stripped of all doubtful or confusing language. Let them remember that there is not the slightest hope that England, either now, or in the near future, will surrender the privilege she now has of buying our cotton, our wheat, and our other commodities at less than half their value. These commodities have been depreciated by the gold standard and there can be no relief until our own people restore silver to its old place in our currency.

Southward Ho!

Many of the leading northern newspapers admit that the main seat of cotton manufacturing in this country will soon be shifted from New England to the south. The Philadelphia Times says: With the south exporting $12,000,000 of cotton manufactures and enlarging its facilities especially to supply the coarser fabrics, it begins to look as if New England's suprem-acy was doomed. Conditions of the late depression compelled close economy and the introduction of labor-saving appliances. Location, cheap rates and fuel have imparted a new importance. The records show that southern factories increased their consumption last year 18,000 bales, while northern spinners fell away to the extent of 265,000. The southern mill with free raw material has an advantage New England factories never can gain, and whether it be in the fine or coarse grades the southern product is rapidly assuming an importance and de-velopment that threatens seriously the ultra protection centers of the north. These facts and ngures plainly indicate the rapid progress of the south in this great industry, and when we look forward to the possible monopoly of the business by this section we cannot fail to be impressed by the magnitude of the coming industrial change. The southward movement of the cotton mills will affect old Engand as well as New England, and will cause their capital, enter prise and a large share of their popula tion to drift in this direction.

This means for the south an era of prosperity surpassing anything ever known in our history. But this bright outlook does not justify our people in sitting down with folded hands to wait for northern and English capitalists to build up our industries, railroads and towns. We must take an active hand in this upbuilding of southern interests and show our faith in cotton manufacturing by putting our money into it.

All through the dull seasons of the present financial depression the southern cotton mills have been running on full time and yielding bigger dividends than those of their northern competitors. The D A. Tompkins Company's mill, at Charlotte, which was mentioned as a notable example in these columns a few days ago, is so crowded with orders for its fine numbers that it has to run night and day.

The cotton mill is destined to be the most powerful factor of southern prosperity in future. When we manufacture our leading staple and sell the product of our mills to home and foreign markets this will be the richest region on the globe.

A Chicago special says: "In company with 'Skinney,' a celebrated pickpocket and house-breaker, Professor Frederick Starr, of the University of Chicago, will leave here this week for southern California and Mexico. Professor Starr is a specialist in anthropology and criminology. He believes criminal is as different abiding citizen as the savage is from the civilized man. So he has chosen a 'crook' for a companion in order to have a good opportunity of studying him any trying the effect of a different environment. In southern California the professor will make a study of the penitentes sect, who crucify one of their number every Good Friday He will be joined there by Professor Harley and together with their companion, will explore the ruins of Senora, the ancient of the Mexicans. There is considere speculation here as to the outcome of the professor's experiment with 'Skinney.' The police are almost unanimous in the belief that the professor will get the worst of it. Already the proprietors of hotels along Professor Starr's route are preparing to double their detective force. A contract for rooms at the Coronado Beach hotel, San Diego, made by the professor last week, has been canceled by wire today. The Pullman company will re-fuse to allow the professor to go to the Pacific coast in their cars if his companion accompanies him, and the danger of allowing 'Skinney' out of sight for a moment is so obvious that even the professor dare not risk it. The superintendent of police, when seen by The Recorder correspondent tonight declared that 'Skinney' would be a menace to the property of every man and woman encountered during the long summer jaunt He predicted that the professor would be

For the past three weeks in New Orleans the deaths among the whites averaged 21.39 per 1,000, while the colored death rate was 42.98 per 1,000. The rate for the whites is low, showing that as far as its white low, showing that as far as its white population is concerned New Orleans is a healthy city at present, but for the colored people it is 101 per cent greater for the en-tire three weeks, and for the week ended May 13th 110 per cent greater. The Times-Democrat regards this difference as markable and abnormal and is at a loss for an explanation. "The weather conditions," says The Times-Democrat, "seem favorable, and it is difficult to understand able, and it is difficult to understand why so many colored people are dying. What will explain the very high mortality among them and who will give their sanitary con-dition the attention it deserves?"

From The Kansas City Times. The probability of the early passage of the tariff bill is already exercising a whole-some influence on business in the leading commercial centers. It has been apparent was the uncertainty of future values, ow was the uncertainty of future values, owing to the doubts as to the passage of the bill. There is plenty of idle capital ready to respond to calls for investment and the rates of discount are below the average of recent years. But, notwithstanding these facts, there has been a reluctance to invest in business enterprises, however favorable the outlook seemed.

From The Columbus Enquirer-Sun.
The late Henry W. Grady, in a letter written in January, 1879, and recently published in The Atlanta Constitution, said of Mr. Louis Garrard, when the constitution-ality of the Garrard 4 per cent bonds were attacked:

"I take it that Mr. Garrard has the case more thoroughly in hand than any one else, and can cover the ground with less research and more satisfaction than any one not so conversant with the law and decisions bearing on the contested points."

Mr. Grady ended this letter by saying that Mr. Garrard "has done the state great service."

If this were true in 1879 when Grady wrote it, then it is also true now, and Mr. Garrard's election to represent this great state in the United States senate will enlarge his field and opportunities to do this grand old commonwealth still greater service, and he can be counted on.

He at once wired the young woman's mother, stating that the daughter was in custody in Atlanta. The chief stated furth that the girl had been taken in charge with a view to restoring her to her home.

In a few hours a telegram was received a police headquarters from the mother police headquarters from the mother of the runaway girl, saying that she would reach the city last night on the same train on which her daughter had reached the city on the night before. Chief Connolly informed the girl of this message and she expressed a willingness to go back home. Instead of the mother an uncle of the young girl came to the city last night, and, calling at police headquarters, took charge of his truant niece. She was giad enough to accompany him back to her old home.

Roses and Bunting Will Cover the Graves of the Union Dead

IN THE MARIETTA CEMETERY TONIGHT

National Memorial Day Will Be Observed Throughout the Country Today-The Story of the Origin of the Custom.

The ten thousand graves and more in the National cemetery at Marietta will be strewn with flowers today.

But the fragrance of the flowers will not be sweeter than the devotion of the ladies and gentlemen who scatter the roses over the 10,161 soldiers who gave their lives for the cause they cherished. It is true that they were invaders when they died and the people of the land in which they are buried did not concur with hem in their thoughts.

But they were brave soldiers. Soldiers who knew nothing but duty and gave their lives obeying the orders of the men led them who led them.

That alone sustains the memory of the dead at Marietta to those who have the soldier's instinct. From the Tennessee line soldier's instinct. to the extreme southern portion of the state the union soldiers fell and found temstate the union soldiers fell and found tem-porary graves, from which they were re-moved after the close of the war to the National cemetery at Marietta. One by one the federal soldiers were transplanted from the battlefield to the National cem-etery. Some of the bodies came from one point of the state and some from another. Under directions of the war department the work went on until 10,161 union sol-diers were laid in straight rows on the beaudiers were laid in straight rows on the beaudiers were laid in straight rows on the beau-tiful sloping hill near Marietta. With every love possible for those who had given their lives for the cause, the United States gov-ernment saw that thousands upon thou-sands of dollars were expended in making the resting place of the dead beautiful, while it gave life and support to those who came out of the ranks mained and sore.

All over the country where battles were fought the treasury was emptied for cem-eferies and in the southland immediately around Atlanta four cemeteries were es-tablished in which 36,240 union soldiers rest -soldiers who died as privates with musket in hand and soldiers who wore the uniforms of the highest rank are now resting in these four cities of the dead.

But of the four—one being at Marietta, where 10,161 are resting; one at Andersonville, where 13,783 are sleeping; one at Beaufort, S. C., where 9,283 are dreaming, Beautort, S. C., where 3,225 are dreaming, and one at Florence, S. C., where 3,013 are reclining—the one at Marietta is beyond all odds the most beautiful.

It was there that the government showed its most generous hand. Landscape work was requisite and there was no niggardly was requisite and there was no niggardly hand displayed by the government in making the National cemetery at Marietta one of the most beautiful in the south.

And it is there that the O. M. Mitchel post of the Grand Army of the Republic, members of the Confederate Veterans and the admirers of bravery will meet today.

Eevery year since General Logan issued his order as commandant of the Grand Army of the Republic the posts all over Army of the Republic the posts all over the country have been observing Memorial Day. Year after year the Grand Army of the Republic people in and about Atlanta have been decorating the graves at Marietta, while those around Macon have gone to Andersonville.

with the band, to accompany the Grand Army of the Republic to Marietta.
And the Grand Army of the Republic, O.
M. Mitchel post, of Atlanta, has invited General Evans and the members of the Confederate Veterans' Association to take part in the day.

Arrangements have been made by Chairman J. E. Harding, of the committee of arrangements, by which the white people only will be at the cemetery until noon, the colored people coming after that hour to show their love to the soldiers who lie buried in Georgia soil. Commander Nelson, of the O. M. Mitchel post, Grand Army of the Republic, and Mr. Harding have received every assurance that the decorations of the graves today will be more thorough than ever before. Great banks of flowers have been received from the ladies in Atlanta and those living in hear-by cities, while boxes have been accumulating for several days from points away up north. Then twenty thousand United States flags have been received by Quartermaster Alexander Mattison from the sons of veterans of Boston, and these will today be planted in the four cemeteries named along with the flowers given locally. It is the O. M. Mitchel post which has direct charge of the exercises at Marietta today. Commander Nelson and Quartermaster Mattison, most ably assisted by Colonel C. F. Watson, departmental com-mander, and Mr. James P. Averill, his assistant adjutant general, have made out an excellent programme, which will be carried out after the cemetery is reached.

But before the programme will come the departure of the Grand Army of the Re-public, the confederate veterans and the friends with the Third Artillery for Mari-friends with the Third Arthery to etta.

The train carrying the party will leave the union depot at 8:30 o'clock this morning.

The O. M. Mitchel post, Grand Army of the Republic, will peet at the hall and march in a body to the union depot, commanded by Commander Nelson, once a member of Atlanta's general council. Each rember will carry a beautiful floral wreath and 2 miniature flag.

The troops will leave the military post early in the morning and march to the union

Inception of Memorial Day.

It was in 1868 that General Chipman, then adjutant general in the Grand Army of the Republic, received a letter from one of the Grand Army of the Republic members suggesting a day of grave decorating. The letter stated that the writer had served in the union army as a private, and for this reason took occasion to call to the attention of General Chipman that in Germany, where he (the writer) had lived, they had a custom of assembling in the springtime and placing flowers upon the graves of the dead. He suggested that the Grand Army of the Republic inaugurate such an observance in memory of their dead.

The idea struck General Chipman as a good one and he prepared a general order to be approved and signed by General Logan, if he saw fit. General John A. Logan, who was at the time commander-inchief of the Grand Army of the Republic heartily endorsed the movement and added several paragraphs, the date named being May 30th on account of the spring being then well advanced and flowers being plentiful.

This was the order as issued:

This was the order as issued:

"Washington, D. C., May 5, 1868.—General Orders No. 11: The 30th day of May, 1888, is designated for the purpose of strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country during the late rebellion, and whose bodies now lie in almost every city, village and hamlet churchyard in the land. In this observance no form of ceremony is prescribed, but posts and comrades will in their own way arrange such fitting services and testimonials of respect as circumstances may permit.

observance no form of ceremony is prescribed, but posts and comrades will in their own way arrange such fitting services and testimonials of respect as circumstances may permit.

"We are organized, comrades, as our regulations tell us, for the purpose, among other things, of preserving and strengthening those kind of fraternal feelings which have bound together the soldiers, sailors and marines who united to suppress the late rebellion. What can aid more to assure this result than by cherishing tenderly the memory of our heroic dead, who made their breasts a barricade between our country and its foes? Their soldier lives were the reveille of freedom to a race in chains, and their deaths the tattoo of rebellion's tyranny in arms. We should guard their graves with sacred vigilance. All that the consecrated wealth and taste of the nation can add to their adornment and security is but a fitting tribute to the memory of her slain defenders. Let no wanton foot tread rudely on such hallowed grounds. Let pleasant paths invite the coming and going of reverent visitors and fond mourners. Let no vandalism of avarice or neglect, no ravages of time, testify to the present or to the comping generations that we have forgotten as a people the cost of a free and undivided republic.

"If other eyes grow dull, and other hands slack, and other hearts cold in the solemn trust, ours shall keep it well as long as the light and warmth of life remain to us. Let us, then, at the appointed time, gather around their sacred remains and garland the passionless mounds above them with choicest flowers of springtime; let us raise above them the dear old flag they saved from dishonor; let us, in this solemn presence, renew our pledges to aid and assist those whom they have left among us a sacred charge upon a nation's gratitude—the soldier's and sailor's widow and orphan. "It is the purpose of the commander-inchief to inaugurate this observance, with the hope that it will be kept up from year to year, while a survivor of the war remains to hono "By order of

It Grew in Important

At first many were opposed to Memorial Day, claiming that it involved an expense of money for flowers and music that could be best utilized in the direction of taking care of the living. Gradually the sentiment in this direction disappeared and the day assumed large proportions.

Thus in every city where there was a federal dead, and in every hamlet, the survivors sought to place upon the grave tributes of veneration and love in the shape of beautiful flowers. In many cities the flowers are expensive as well as plentiful, and every dead hero of the blue, whether he be known or unknown, shared alike the annual tribute of flowers. The memories of the gone heroes survive and keep green in the minds of their descendants.

National Cemeteries.

National Cemeteries.

There are four national cemeteries that come within the instructions of the department of Georgia, and the remains of the brave fellows represent nearly all arms of the service and nearly every state in the union. These cemeteries are at Andersonville, Ga., where are buried 13,783 federal dead; Marietta, where 10,161 are buried; Beaufort, S. C., where the bodies of 9,283 rest, and Florence, S. C., where 3,013 are buried.

Commander C. T. Watson issued his orders several days ago in regard to the cemeteries to be decorated by the different posts. The decoration of the Marietta national cemetery will be attended to by 0. M. Mitchel post No. 1, assisted by James B. Steedman post No. 4, and Blue Ridge post No. 6, aided by the department commander, medical director, assistant adjutant general and assistant quartermaster general.

AFTER THE DOCTOR.

Case Against Dr. I. L. Couch for Failing to Report Contagious Diseases.

THE DOCTOR IS OUT OF THE CITY But Health Officer Buchanan Charges Him with Failing to Report Cases of Small-pox of Which He Was Aware.

Dr. I. L. Couch's name appeared on the police docket yesterday opposite a charge of "failing to report contagious diseases to the board of health."

the board of health."

This charge was under section 654 of the city sanitary ordinance, and is perhaps the first one ever made under the section. It grew out of the finding of two cases of suspected smallpox at a house on Hilliard street last week.

It was reported to the sanitary officials that Dr. Couch had been attending one of the next strengt that was removed to the pest. that Dr. Couch had been attending one of the patients that was removed to the pest-house last week. The officers say that the patients had been suffering from smallpox for a week when they were found last Thursday. The cases were removed to the pesthouse immediately after being found. The health authorities began an investi-gation at once, and yesterday City Attorney Colville was in police court to represent the city in the prosecution of Dr. Couch.

But there was no case on the docket, and hence no trial.

Later in the afternoon Health Officer Buchanan entered the case against Dr. Couch, and it was set for trial on June 18th. Dr. Couch's office is next door to the Edgewood avenue theater on Edgewood avenue, and when a reporter called to get his version of the case, he was not in. A young man in the office stated that he was at Indian Spring.

"I know nothing of the case," said he, "I know nothing of the case," said he, "I know that Dr. Couch did attend for several days a woman on Hilliard street who had chicken pox. Last Thursday I understand that the sanitary authorities discovered two cases of smallpox in the same yard in which Dr. Couch's patient lived. I do not know whether Dr. Couch ever attended them or not. He went to Indian Spring Sunday and will be there several days."

The outcome of this case will be watched

The outcome of this case will be watched with unusual interest, as it is about the first on record of its kind. The case against Dr. Couch was made under section 654 of 'the city code. A pretty severe penalty is prescribed for any violation of this section. It provides that any physician or other person who shall fail to report a case of smallpox within six hours after it comes to his knowledge, shall be arrested and upon conviction fined in, a sum not exceeding $500, or imprisoned in the city stockade thirty days, either or both.

Financial Gossip.

Foreign and Domestic News Company, by private wire to J. C. Knox, manager—Stocks opened feverish and the shorts in Sugar were nervous. The Havemeyer brokers were the principal buyers. The general impression is that the Sugar schedule will be adopted by the senate with few objections.

Chicago Gas and Distilling and Cattle Feeding were also strong features and Cam-mack brokers were free buyers at the ad-

St. Paul was in urgent request for both accounts and the arbitrage brokers had orders for large amounts at any concession. Boston houses bought moderately of Chicago, Burlington and Quincy.

Chicago Special—There was considerable buying of Chicago Gas here yesterday on what is considered the best information that Moloney's suit will be tried in the

From The Indicator, New York, May 29th bank reserves in this city are coming own very gradually indeed, and from the reduction in loans last week it would seem the banks were not disposed to let the reduction proceed very rapidly. With nearly $78,000,000 surplus reserve we see no reason why loans should be contracted even a little

The gold exports had very little effect upon the specie reserves of the banks, the decrease in the latter being only $883,000 last week. The total is nearly $100,000,000, which is considerably above the gold reserve in the United States treasury. If the banks did business in the same way as the government they would be short of gold

From the returns of the national banks of the principal cities, now being published, it is possible to get additional evidence of the depression in business and its universality. New York city national banks report an increase in deposits from February 28th to May 4th of $49,000,000, and in loans of less

Boston had an increase of $7,000,000 in deposits and a decrease of $300,000 in loans; Philadelphia had an increase of $8,000,000 in deposits and of only $3,000,000 in loans; Baltimore had an increase of $2,000,000 in deposits and $1,500,000 in loans; Cincinnati an increase in deposits of $1,200,000 and in loans about the same.

Pittsburg national banks gained $2,800,000 in deposits, and loans increased $2,000,000; Cleveland gained $1,000,000 deposits, and loans decreased $400,000, and in other cities similar showings are made. Money is accumulating in all directions, and for the present there seems to be no use for it.

Atwood Violett & Co's. Cotton Letter By Private Wire to J. C. Knox. Manager. NEW YORK, May 29.—Liverpool and Manchester see what is apparenty not evident to those who are buying cotton, and that is that diminishing supplies in this country with port receipts averaging 2,000 to 3,000 bales daily and exports larger than receipts means that the European consuner must rely largely upon American cotton upon the other side as well as what is affoat from this side to run him until new cotton comes into this market in this country. The exports last year from last Friday until September 1st, were 489,000 bales from this country to Europe, and yet the consolidated stocks last night at all the United States ports were only 49,000 bales, and the visible towns weekly reported in the south showed last Friday 77,000 less stock than on the same date last year. Port receipts last night were only 40,000 smaller than last year, but the amount that came into sight from this date until September 1st, last year, was more than will come this year to September 1st. Today the New York stock is 222,000 bales, exports 101,000, leaving 128,000 at the remaining ports in this country. The visible interior movement daily reported continues exceedingly light, and New Orleans, which is the biggest feeder of all the ports of the daily movement, anticipates very light receipts. There are four good By Private Wire to J. C. Knox. Manager. leans, which is the biggest feeder of all the ports of the daily movement, anticipates very light receipts. There are four good reasons why the crop should be a very large one, facetiously speaking: First, because farmers have been unable to replenish their live stock; second, because less fertilizers, by a larger percentage than last year, have been sold; third, because more meat and bread are being raised in the south than ever before; fourtn, because farmers have been able to procur; advances to a smaller extent than ever before, and, with few exceptions have been unable to procure assistance at all.

Hubbard, Price & Co.'s Cotton Letter. NEW YORK, May 29.—Summary of Hub-bard, Price & Co.'s cotton letter. Liverpool advised a rather better market this morning bard, Price & Co.'s cotton letter. Liverpool advised a rather better market this morning than had been expected, opening at an advance of 2-64d. The progress toward higher prices continued and quotations at the close were from 3-64@4-64d higher than yesterday. Spot sales were 12,000 bales; middling uplands being quoted at 4d, a gain for the first time in several weeks. An opening improvement of about 5 points was established in the New York market in response to the strength developed abroad, and at the advance the market became exceedingly dull, and during the afternoon prices had hardly varied more than 2 or 3 points. The advance in prices today, both here and in Liverpool, may be regarded entirely as the result of the demand for spot cotton for purposes of consumption. It has been absolutely thassisted by speculation, and the reflection more of the gradually diminishing stocks of cotton in this country and in Europe than of any improvement in trade generally. The market during the afternoon, though continuing dull, lost nothing of its firm undertone and closed steady at an advance of about 2 points upon the prices current at 1 o'clock. Tomorrow is a close holiday in New York, but the New Orleans market will be open and higher prices are generally expected there and in Liverpool.

Riordan & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

NEW YORK, May 29.—(Special.)—The market showed more strength and spirit today than it had exhibited for a long time past. The firmness in Liverpool was reflected in the fireater confidence among traders here, and from start to finish there was a noticeable absence of that semi-hopeless feeling which has marked all the operations of the buils for some weeks past. August opened 4 points higher at 7.10 and was pretty firm all day. The close was steady with 7.13 bid for August. The temper of the market is now such that very few want to sell, and a comparatively small volume of outside buying might advance prices considerably. The bears attribute the advance today to covering in consequence of the Decoration Day holiday tombrrow, but the feeling of uneasiness among the shorts is unmistakably growing. Everybody seems to think that though prices may be lower, it is safer now to be long than to be short of cotton. There are fears that the June bureau report may show the effect of the recent bad weather in a more striking way than it has hitherto been viewed by people here. Riordan & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

CHICAGO, May 29.—A holiday spirit prevalled in wheat toda. Unless something extraordinary happens this is the customary manner of anticipating a holiday, the precedent being followed in this instance. Pardridge did some fire work on the curb, foreing prices down %c from last night's close, and with this loss the market opened. Most of the wheat bought 'on yesterday's bulge, in expectation of frosts, which were predicted for some states, was for sale at the start, the looked-for freeze not materializing. The weight of these offerings caused a further drop of 4c in the space of a very few mirutes, after which there was a slight recovery. July wheat opened at 55%, c, sold between 55%, and 55%, and 55%, c, closing at 55%, a fuz loss of ½c for the day. Cash wheat was steady.

between 55% 65% and 55% 65% c, closing at 55%, å inst loss of ½c for the day. Cash wheat was steady.

Corn—At first this market was firm on its own account. After the temper had moderated there was less disposition to go it alone and more to abide by the tone in wheat shown. July sold between 38¼ and 37% c, closing at 38% c. There was a fair inquiry for each corn. Offerings were moderate and prices held steady.

Oats were independently firm, the poor crop prospect being the sustaining factor. The trade was not large on account of tomorrow's holding. July closed ½c higher than yesterday. Cash oats were in good demand and prices were ¼c ½c higher.

Provisions—The duliness in product was more pronounced today than for some time past, the inactivity being accentuated by the approaching holiday. Wheat opening weak and some grades of hogs selling lower caused an easy opening and the recovery to grain, with a later report from the yards cooling a firm close in the market resulted in a better tone to provisions. The close was 2½ lower cach for July pork and ribs, and 567% lower for July lard.

Jamson Bros. & Co.'s Grain Letter. By Private Wire to J. C. Knox, Manager. CHICAGO, May 29.—There was apparently too much wheat bought yesterday on the theory of frosts last night, and a continued drought west, and when the weather map showed warmer weather and rains through Kansas and Missouri the feeling became very weak. Holders were free sellers, and being joined by scalpers values immediately broke ½c. However, offerings on the decl'ne were well taken care of by a large loce' trader, and later prices quickly advanced & holding firm. Shipments from Lamson Bros. & Co.'s Grain Letter. cs. trader, and later prices quickly advanced %c, holding firm. Shipments from cer trader, and later prices quicky acvanced %c, holding firm. Shipments from the Baltic and sundry ports were again large, aggregating, for the week, over 4,000,000 bushels. The situation at the seaboard was weak, New York saying foreigners were sellers, and that it was quite likely shippers would continue bearish until Argentine was through with her "bankrupt sale of wheat." Clearances, however, were large, amounting to over 425,000 bushels.
Cables quoted foreign markets closing unchanged to lower, with a weak feeling.
Damage reports are still rife. There was a decrease east and west of the Rockies of 1,750,000 bushels. New York reported 23 loads taken for export, and St. Louls and Kansas City were free buyers towards the close, which caused continued strength and a further slight advance. Tomorrow being a holiday, the trade during most of the session was narrow, but prices, after the first decline have been well maintained and the close was firm.
Oats have been very stroag. The contract stock in Chicago amounts to only 500,000 bushels.
Corn was also firm in sympathy.

RULE NISI.

RULE NISI.

A. L. James vs. D. W. Wynn. Mortgage, etc. March term, 1894. Superior court of Fulton country, Georgia. Present, the Hon. J. H. Lumpkin, judge of said court.

It appearing to the court by the petition of A. L. James, that on the 7th day of May, in the year of our Lord eighteen hundred and eighty-six (1886) D. W. Wynn, then of said county, but who now resues eisewhere in said state, made and delivered to W. E. Carnes, or bearer, forty-seven (47) promissory notes each for six dollars, maturing on the first day of each succeeding month, commencing June 1, 1886, and ending April, 18ve, besides 8 per cent interest from date and 10 per cent attorney's fees, and to secure the parment of said notes executed and delivered to said W. E. Carnes a certain deed of mortgage, whereby he conveyed to said Carnes the following described real estate, viz: One house and lot in the city of Atlanta, Ga., known in the plan of said town as lot No. thirty-eight (38) on Parks street in said city, said lot facing Parks street fifty (50) feet and running back inject-six (96) feet to lot owned by W. W. Black on Cain street, conditioned that if said D. W. Wynn should pay off and discharge said promissory notes, according to their tenor and effect, that then said deed of mortgage and said notes should be void; and that said notes and mortgage have been duly transferred and assigned to said A. L. James.

And it further appearing that twenty-eight (28) of said notes, viz: Those maturing last, remain unpaid, the principal thereof being one hundred and sixty-eight (3168) dollars, it is further ordered that said D. W. Wynn pay into this court by the first day of the next term thereof, the principal, interest, attorney's fees and cost due on sold twenty-eight (28) notes or show cause to the contrary, if there be any; and that on failure of said D. W. Wynn so to do the equity of redemption in and to said rortgaged premises to be forever thereafter barred and foreclosed.

The Meaning of the Convention of Railway Labor Union Men.

GEORGIA SENT LARGE DELEGATIONS

Nothing New in the Rate War Among Southern Lines-Commissioner Stahl-man Will Take a Hand.

Georgia divisions of railway labor organizations are well represented at the grand convention of railway brotherhoods now in session in the city of New York. Chief Conductor Humphries, of this city, representing the Order of Railway Conductors, took quite an active part in the work of sending delegations there from work of sending delegations there from this state.

The result was that nearly all of the brotherhood divisions in this state have representatives at the meeting, and will join in the movement for more favorable legislation for the railway laborers.

Chief Conductor Humphries was talking about the objects in view the other day, and said that it is the purpose of the railway employes of the entire country to unite and go before the national congress and before the state legislatures in every state in the union to appeal for friendly legislation. "The chief thing we want." said he, "is some sort of law that will make it compulsory to have boards of arbitration appointed in all cases of strikes and labor dissensions between railroad arbitration appointed in all cases of strikes and labor dissensions between railroad companies and trainmen. The great trouble of late years is that we cannot have any sort of arbitration when it comes to a falling out with railway companies. The railroads in many instances positively refuse to grant permission for a board of unbiased men to settle the troubles that arise. They just hold out that they have nothing to say, but that they are right, and we must come to them. Frequently there is no justice in their claims, no equity in their manner of settlement. We hold that a set of unbiased, honest, fairminded men can settle quarrels and strikes with considerably more justice to all parties concerned than railroad manipulators. "The public musn't understand that we

"The public musn't understand that we are organizing for any extreme or harsh measures. We mean business, but we mean to move in the most harmonious and liberal minded way. We are simply going to make a firm effort to get laws we think we ought to have. Heretofore, we have always abided by the laws of the country, and we intend to abide by them. But the old fashion of rushing into a strike as a settlement of difficulties of this sort is beneficial to none of the parties con-cerned. It hurts the public most of all. If trains are tied up, it is not the striker, not the railway magnate that is most meriously hurt, but the shipper and jobber, the men who want their goods shipped and the people who want to travel from city to city. Therefore, the law we are after, which will have the effect to do away with strikes, will play to the hand of the making sure the transportation of freigh and passenger traffic at all seasons, at all times. Hence, we claim that if the law has such advantages it is such a law as will benefit the people of the whole country, and, therefore, is worthy of the most serious consideration of congress and of the state legislatures.

"So far from being extremists and ranrso far from being extremists and ranters, we are proceeding, as we claim, for the general good of the republic. The day has come when all labor quarrels ought to be speedily settled by arbitration. We, the laborers, are willing for boards of arbitration to be appointed. In fact, we have called this great convention for no other nurses; than to try to get laws that other purpose than to try to get laws that will make arbitration boards absolutely compulsory in the settlement of the dis-turbances. We are not only willing to have them, we are working to make them a reality established by law."

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, the Order of Railway Conductors, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and several other organizations had repesen-tatives from Georgia to go from Atlanta, Augusta, Macon, Savannah, Rome, Americus, Columbus and other cities. Georgia is well represented at the convention.

For a State Campaign.

It has been given out by the authorities in this state that if the brocherhoods fail in their effort to get congress to pass a law at this term making the appointment of boards of arbitration compulsory in the adjustment of all business troubles they will make a local campaign of it in Georgla before the state legislature when it

Buch measure at this season, they will go into every state and make the fight a local one in the general assemblies of the states. "Yes, and we will mix it in local politics as far as we are able," said one enthusias-

The Rate War from the East. Nothing further developed in the ex-citing rate war from the east yesterday. The statement printed in the railroad col-The statement printed in the railroad columns of The Constitution in yesterday's paper that the commissioner of the Southern Railway and Steamship Association had found it necessary to make a sweeping reduction of the freight rates from the east as a cure for the disposition on the part of the roads to abuse the purposes of the association, was read with a great deal of interest by the railroad men in the Equitable building, where so many of the general offices are located. All of the officials were much concerned, and the question was heard on all sides as to when the low rate of 40 cents per hundred would be put on by the commissioner.

It has not been made known by the association yet when the rate will go, but Commissioner Stahlman will arrive in Atlanta this morning, presumably for the purpose of fixing the schedule and the date.

It is believed that the rate will go on date.

It is believed that the rate will go on about the 2d of June. The commissioner has been in Nashville for the past two or three weeks, having been held there by the scrious and dangerous illness of Mrs. Stahlman.

Stahlman.

He is determined to straighten out the recent squabble if he can, and it is safe to say that he has not ordered the low rate of 40 cents on first-class freight from New York to Atlanta without due consideration. It is rumored that these cuts and fluctuating rates have been indulged in by some of the lines for months.

In by some of the lines for months.

Reorganisation of the "Sam."

Much interest centers in the methods now being engaged in for the complete reorganization of the Savannah, Americus and Montgomery Railway Company.

Careful investigation of the plans causes The Railway Age to observe that the reorganization plan for this property calls for but one Mortgage on the entire property. The road, as has already been announced, will be extended from Lyons to Savannah, a distance of seventy-four miles. The entire mileage will be bonded at the fate of $15,000 per mile. Of these, $5,000 per mile will be in 5 per cent preference bonds, redeemable at the pleasure of the company after three years, and on their retirement a like amount of first-mortgage bonds may take their place. The will be issued preferred stock at 6 per cent at the rate of $10,000 per mile of main completed road, and common stock at $15,000 ber mile of main completed road, and common stock at $15,000 ber mile of main completed road, and terminal bonds. Each $1,000 old bonds will be replaced with $300 in new first-mortgage 5 per cent preferred stock and $000 new common stock. The stockholders committee says that the practical result of this reorganization, therefore, is to give the old Savannah, Americus and Montgomethod on a completed through line representing a smaller debt per mile than their old bonds on an unfinished road, and for the 20 per cent which they surrender they are given 400 per cent in new 6 per cent preferred stock and 250 per cent new common stock, so that their position is believed to be stronger and better than it has sever been, before. When the road went into the hands of a receiver in November, 1892 its fixed charges were about $1,032 per mile per annum on an unfinished road, but on the carrying out of this present plan of reorganization the fixed charges will be only about $750 per mile on a thor-Reorganization of the "Sam."

NO TAMPERING WITH TICKETS.

Accused of Forging the Date of a Commutation Ticket.

New York, May 29.—Charles D. Bailey, who lives at Greenwick, Conn., and says he is managing clerk in the Indian Harbor hotel at that place, was arrested at the Grand Central station at 11.30 o'clock last evening upon a warrant obtained by William Daniels, a conductor on the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad. In the Harlem police court today Bailey was held New Haven and Harttord Bailey was held Harlem police court today Bailey was held in $1,000 bail for examination on a charge to the degree Coursel for of forgery in the third degree. Counsel for the railway company charges that Bailey had attempted to use a commutation ticket which expired August 31, 1892, which date, it is alleged, he altered to make the ticket good. It is charged that the prisoner has been using it ever since the date of issue, and thus defrauding the company since the ticket became worthless.

Bailey said he had altered the ticket while intoxicated and had only once attempted to use it.

MELONS ARE RIPENING. Railway Men Are Counting on a Good Traffic This Year,

Montgomery, Ala., May 29.—(Special.)—
"The big south Georgia watermelons are beginning to ripen, and the time for moving the melon crop is not far distant," said a railroad man the other day. "Southern railroad men anticipate this freight traffic with special interest. Montgomery is the great gateway through which this wonder-ful crop is distributed. The Savananh, Flor-ida and Western railroad handles first most of the Georgia melon crop as most of the melon producing country ..es contiguous to that line. Along it last year were planted 8,839 acres in melons from which were shipped 3,633 carloads of fruit; 1,100 loads went east and 2,533 went west. This year the acreage on the Savannah, Florida and Western is 7,376, and on the Boston and Albany, of Georgia, is 1,200, making a total of 8,576 acres from which a yield of 3,500 cay-loads of fruit is expected."

The average yield in 1891 was 2.45 acres to the car; in 1892, 2.48, and in 1893, 2.58. Thus the meion crop is shown to be a very sta-ple one. The average carload is 1,200 meions, and, estimating on this basis, it will be seen that last year some 10,606,600 meions were shipped by the one railroad first men-

SEVEN NEW CASES.

Police Department Enforcing Its Order About Illegal Sale of Beer. The police edict that the sale of beer and wine at disorderly resorts in the city must cease seems to have the ring of sincerity

Seven more cases were made yesterday against women who keep places of the de scription mentioned. Two or three of then were arrested a month ago when the agi-tation first started. Those arrested yesterday are: Belle Burton, Blanche Hill, Carrie Clarke, Ella Hinkle, Nellie Train and Annie Morgan.

It remains to be seen what disposition Recorder Calhoun will make of the cases. He fined those who were before him before $50 and costs and notified them that a second offense would be visited by a fine several times as heavy. One of the women who was arrested before has not yet been tried on the first charge. She will have to meet two cases when she comes to trial.

To the Summer Resorts.

To the Summer Resorts.

The East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railway has now in effect the most perfect schedule ever run. "The Owl Train," which leaves Atlanta at 11 p. m., connects 'at Chattanooga with the famous "Shenandoah Valley Limited," leaving that point at 7 a. m., which is composed of solid vestibule coaches, sleepers and dining car, giving convenient arrivals at all resorts in East Tennessee and Virginia. Then the train leaving Atlanta at 2 p. m., which is vestibuled from end to end, connects at Ooltewah Junction with the fast train, which also arrives at all resorts at the most reasonable hours. Both of the above trains reach Lookout mountain, White Cliff Springs, Roan mountain, Cranberry, Hot Springs, Roan mountain, Cranberry, Hot Springs, Roan mountain, Cranberry, Hot Springs, Roan mountain, Cranberry, White Sulphur and Blue Ridge Springs and all other famous resorts in the territory above named.

The regular summer schedules to the seashore, which are as perfect as can be made, have been put in effect. "The Seashore Express" still leaves Atlanta at 7:30 p. m., arriving at Brunswick at 6:15 a. m., connecting with boats for St. Simon's and Cumberland islands, both of which places have been opened under new and excellent management. The other train for Brunswick leaves Atlanta at 7:30 a. m., arriving at that point at 7 a. m.

Full information regarding any of the above resorts with pamphlets, etc., can be had at the office of Mr. Ed E. Kirby, city ticket agent, East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railway, corner Kimball house. Also the quickest and best schedule and summer tourist rates.

The State Sunday School Association

Now in Session.

NEARLY TWO HUNDRED DELEGATES HERE

The Meetings of the Convention Will Be Held in the Auditorium of the First Methodist Church

The Georgia State Sunday School Assoclation, 200 strong, composes of en. nest, con-secrated and faithful workers, is now in possession of the c.ty.

At the First Methodist church last night

At the First Methodist church last night the initial session was held.

It was largely attended, and the meeting was an interesting prelude to the work of the convention. A large amount of enthusiasm was manifested, and the delegates seemed to be thoroughly interested in the scope and purposes of the convention.

The meeting was called to order by the president of the association, Mr. John M. Green. Mr. Green is one of the most active Sunday school workers in the country, and much of his time has been devoted to this employment, although a prominent and active business man with large commercial interests in the city.

Dr. E. H. Barnett, the pastor of the First Presbyterian church, in a fervent and ear-nest prayer, invoked the blessing of God to rest upon the convention throughout its en-rest upon the convention throughout its entire session and to make it a strong influence for good in the community.

The opening anthem of the session was furnished by the choir of the First Baptist church, 'composed of Professor J. P. O'Donnelly, director; Mrs. Annie M. Dow, soprano; Mrs. C. A. Sindall, contralto; Mr. William Owens, tenor, and Mr. Eugene Hardeman, bass. After the opening piece the old familiar lines of "Coronation" were sung by the congregation.

old familiar lines of "Coronation" were sung by the congregation.

Mr. Fred D. Lockhart, of Augusta, was next introduced, who conducted the devotional exercises of the evening. He made an interesting talk on the frequent occurrence of the word "children" in the Bible. He argued the importance of the Suyday school as the training camp of the young. The address of Mr. William S. Witham on "How to Keep Adults in the Sunday School" was a very great treat to the audience. A vein of humor threaded the discourse, which was highly enjoyed, without detracting from the dignified tone of the address. The speaker reasoned that in order to the sunday of the contraction of the speaker reasoned that in order to the sunday of the supplies that in order to the sunday of the supplies that in order to the supplies the supplies that in order to the supplies that in order to the supplies the supplies the supplies that in order to the supplies that it is the supplies that i address. The speaker reasoned that in order to make the Sunday school magnetic it was necessary to have the spirit of love fully developed. The teacher should always be thoroughly prepared, whereas many teachers went to the Sabbath school without knowing the subject of the lesson. without knowing the subject of the lesson. An ignorant or careless teacher never succeeded in geting his or her pupils interested. It was necessary to be well prepared, to have the spirit of love, and to keep self in the background, while Christ was uplitted. This was the pupport of the discussion, which was heard by all in the congregation with very close attention. The evening session concluded with a number of short addresses on the line of the convention's work. The first of these was by Mr. R. B. Reppard, of Savannah, who made one of the best talks of the evening. He will take a leading part in the work of the convention.

A number of delegates will arrive this morning, and the convention will be in session until tomorrow evening.

TO LEAD A NEW LIFE.

H. G. Westall, of Asheville, N. C., Came Here for That Purpose,

AND HE WENT TO SUNDAY SCHOOL

And Moved in Good Circles, but He Was Arrested Yesterday-A Chapter from His Past.

A slender, correctly attired young man with clean shaven, boyish face and mild eyes, with a life story of temptation and weakness, occupied a cell at the police station last night.

The young man was not an ordinary prisoner. It was easy to see that he was not at home among the noisy and vulgar dis-orderlies who were shouting all around him. There was something gentlemanly in his manner and his pale face suggested the student.

The prisoner is H. G. Westall, of Asheville, N. C., a descendant of a choice ram-ily of that city. He is twenty-three years old and has nothing of the criminal in his appearance. He was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detectives Holcomb and Jett on a charge of stealing some money from a fellow boarder. Through this arrest a story

Yesterday morning a young man named Eggleston, who resides at a boarding house on East Huster street, reported that some one had entered his room the night before and robbed him of $22. He accused Mr. Westall, who occupied a room directly across the hall from his, of taking the

The detectives arrested the young man and proceeded to investigate the charge. In Westall's pocket was found a letter which threw a searchlight upon his recent past, and which made it quite clear that the young man's past had not been in-

The letter was from a brother of the pris-

The letter was from a brother of the prisoner and contained the information that on account of his career his family had renounced him. The letter further informed him that the legal authorities were looking for him and that he would be prosecuted it found.

The detectives very readily inferred that they had caught a rughtly and proceeded to turn their attention to the new branch of the case. They laid the letter before the chief and the latter telegraphed to the sheriff at Asneville, saying mat Westall was under arrest here and asked if he was under arrest here and asked if he was wanted in Asheville.

Westall was seen in his cell last night by a Constitution reporter and told the story of his past.

"My family," said he, "stands high in Asheville, and I dislike to bring them into notoriety. As to this charge of stealing money, I most positively deny it and I can prove my innocence. I was at a music hall over Freyer & Bradley's up to 11 o'clock that night. Really I do not believe that the young man who brings the charge has lost any money at all."

About the charges against him in Asheville, Westall said:

"I don't think that I am wanted in Asheville; at least one of the men who would want me knows that I am in Atlanta. The cnarge against me there was forgery. It occurred on March 31st and I left the next day, April 1st, and came to Atlanta."

He was told that Chief Connolly had wired to the Asheville authorities to know to Atlanta."

He was told that Chief Connolly had wired to the Asheville authorities to know if he was wanted there and he did not seem pleased at the idea. He said that his life had not been just what he had wanted to make it.

"I came to Atlanta," said he, "to begin life anew. I intended to make an honest effort to keep straight. I tried hard, as I have always tried, but somehow, for some reason that I cannot explain, I don't seem to have done it."

have always tried, but somehow, for some reason that I cannot explain, I don't seem to have done it."

When he first came here he regularly attended a church and joined a Sunday school class. He met a number of nice people and moved in respectable circles. In some way some of his new associates learned from a letter from his brother, who is a minister, that he had gone wrong.

He says he was much encouraged that they did not refuse to associate with him and he was strengthened in his resolve to lead a better life. Young Westall seems to be a well intentioned young fellow, but seems to have made more than one break. He says the last work he did was a sclerk in his brother's office at Asheville. His father, he says, is a literary man.

The officers had heard nothing from Asheville last night and will hold the young man until they do. They do not know whether he will be prosecuted on the charge of stealing money or not. The evidence against him is purely circumstantial.

Moonshiners Try to Get Out of Jail and Are Now in the Dungeon. An adventurous moonshiner who came to the Fulton county jail only a few days ago the Fulton county jail only a few days ago proceeded at once to organize a little party, the object of which was to escape. His first lieutenant was a stalwart young moun-taineer who only came in last Friday.

John Cavenier has the credit of origi-nating the scheme by which a few chosen spirits were to escape. He is a hardy moonshiner, and is full of native pluck and grit. In a quiet way, he selected a few of the prisoners, whom he shrewdly judged would join him in his plan, and they began to quietly mature their scheme. Yesterday morning was the time set for the carrying out of the plan. It was to be a bold one, and was to disarm suspicion and detection by being executed at a time when the jailers were not on the alert. In some way the jailers learned of the contemplated escape, and all the morning were on the qui vive. The men were confined in the jail yard, which is surrounded by a high plank fence, with about a half hundred moonshiners.

Boldly enough the men set about getting out. Their plan was to climb over the fence at the most obscure point, by placing a barrel and some boxes together, on which to climb to the top. Jailer Mardis had his eyes on the men, and just as they were making their effort he appeared on the

He took charge of Cavenier and Frenell, the young man, and placed them in the dungeon in the rock jail. They will be kept in the dark dungeon a day or two. When they are let out again, they will not be allowed to go in the yard again, but will be imprisoned with the state prisoners.

Judge Newman. R. N. McLane lived in the mountainous regions of Rabun county for many years and was a conspicuous figure among a certain class of inhabitants up there, but a change has come over the spirit of the mountaineer's dream and for a long time he must bid goodby to his native heath. McLane belongs to that class of characters whose existence depends upon the manufacture and subsequent sale of the festive essence of corn. Some time ago he was arrested for retailing without the formal permission of Uncle Sam. It was his third offense. Monday the case came up be-fore Judge Newman for trial and the mountaineer was sentenced to a term of thirteen months at hard labor in the fed-eral prison in Columbus, O.

Upon the way to this city he made a clean breast of the whole affair, describing the deed and implicating several well-known citizens of Murray. After his arrival a written statement was made in the presence of the United States attorney and several others. It was due to this confession that the whole gang was arrested last week and bound over for preliminary hearing before Commissioner Broyles. Because of unavoidable postponement, Parish was not tried until Monday. He caught the full extent of the law, however, and the federal court will soon make a final

EVERYTHING READY.

Both the New Hose Company Houses to Be Occupied.

FIRE DEPARTMENT'S FLOWER JUBILEE

It Will Be a Procession of All the Para phernalia-Ninety-One Men Will Be in Line.

There will be two more hose companies added to the already superb fire department of Atlanta tomorrow night, when the two new houses, Nos. 6 and 7 are occupied by new houses, Nos. 6 and 7 are occupied by the two new companies.

The two new hose wagons are all ready and the foremen of the two companies have been busy for two days arranging every-thing at the houses to the queen's taste in order to be ready for the reception of the wagons and the men.

Foreman E. R. Anderson will be in charge of Company No. 7 and will have parter of Company No. 7 and will have under him seven men to man the hose wagon. Foreman Anderson is well known in Atlanta and has been at engine house No. 1 for some time. He is thoroughly versed in everything that it takes to make up a good fireman, and having first learned to obey, is thus able to take charge of others. He will have under him the following men:

W. L. Burell, driver, formerly of No. 1; W. M. Watkins, formerly of No. 1; R. T. Payne, G. W. Waits, Edward Kendrick, Henry Anandale and T. H. Goodwin.

These men make a fine crew, steadied by such veterans as Burell and Watkins, men that never lose their heads under any cir-cumstances and always know the right thing to do at the right time. Foreman Anderson will have under him a set of faithful workers.

At Company No. 6, in the fourth ward, there will be a good company also, headed by John Terrell, the youngest foreman in the department. Terrell is an especially bright young man, and has always been a conscientious worker, never failing in his duties. It was these qualities that led to his promotion. At the new engine house he will have seven men also. The crew will be composed of the following named firemen.

E. K. Grimmet, driver, formerly of No. 2;
L. R. Hooper, H. P. Harris, A. S. Jenkins,

A. W. Dimmock, O. E. Dennard and L. E.

"I like the arrangements of the new houses," said Foreman Anderson yesterday, "and I hardly think that the most scrupufacility thisk that the most scrippi-lous person could discover anything to find fault with. Everything at No. 7 has been arranged and we will be ready to install the new hose wagon Thursday night."

Chief Joyner stated that the architect did not want the houses taken charge of on Friday, as this was not considered a lucky day; in view of this the chief has ordered the new wagons to go in on Thursday night.

Fire Department Flower Jubilee.

The Mayor and General Council. Chief Joyner is sending out a number of invitations to the mayor and general coun-cil to take part in the procession. Car-riages will be furnished by the fire depart-ment and the mayor and councilmen will be invited to ride in the line of march. Foreman Anderson, of West engine houses. Foreman Anderson, of West End company, particularly requests that any West Ender who will give him flowers or evergreens for the decoration of hose wagon No. 7, bring them to the engine house Saturday morning.

There will be ninety-one men in procession, all of them arrayed in their new spring suits, which are custom made and the product of home industry—Jerry Lynch. The hats are splendid straw and come from Law Bros. In all the glory of pretty uniforms and flower bedecked engines and hose wagons, the 2re department will outshine Solomon in all his glory.

THOSE WHO WENT

To the Exposition at Chicago

Saw the wonderful exhibition made by the Libbey Glass Company. This was considered one of the most interesting displays there. The wonderful process of cutting glass was shown in all its details.

The Libbey Company are acknowledge to be the most skillful cutters of glass in the world. The purity and brilliancy of their glass and the artistic effects of their cutting has easily put their work far ahead of all other makes. To say that cut glass "is as good as Libbey's" means the highest claim that competitors aspire to, hence it is that the Libbey make is a household word in this country.

J. P. Stevens & Bro. are sole agents in Atlanta for this glass. They show the largest stock to be seen in this city and their prices are acknowledged the lowest.

Georgia Farmers Will Suffer from the Cold Weather.

FIELDS OF COTTON PLOWED UP

Reports from All Sections Show Disastrous Effects in the Wake of the Recent Cold Wave.

The report of the weather bureau for this week shows that the crops througout the state are in a serious condition, and that the permanent effects of the recent cold wave will be sadly disastrous.

wave will be sadly disastrous. Since the cold snap of last week much interest has been felt as to the result. Various inquiries have been received by Officer Morrill, and he has been busy for several days replying to letters which requested information as to the prospect of cotton in Georgia. These letters were based upon reports sent in from every section of the state, and in them the opinion was general that the weather and winds have played sad havoc with Georgia's staple. Mr. Mor-rill has given signal attention to the col-lection of the reports for this week and has tried to gain the exact condition and prospect of Georgia crops. He says:

"There is no longer doubt that serious and irreparable damage has been done to cotton over at least the northern half of Georgia. The severe cold of a week ago Sunday was followed by a cold and nearly rainless week. Especially was it cold at night. So far, therefore, from being revivified and strengthened by warmth and moisture, the damaged cotton plants were further chilled by raw northwest winds, and the growth of root, as well, was checked by the dryness of the soil. As a result ed by the dryness of the soil. As a result cotton in northern Georgia is in an extremely critical state. Specimens of the plant sent by Mr. C. C. Dawson from Greene county the past week are typical of the condition of cotton over at least half of the state. Nearly all the leaves were dried and dead, having the same appearance as if the plants had been pulled up and allowed to wither in a hot sun. In about three-fourths of them the terminal bud and minute leaves at the top were still fresh. fourths of them the terminal bud and minute leaves at the top were still fresh. The later plants would doubtless grow under favorable conditions, but could hardly stand many days of cold, or even a slight drought. In many fields so much cotton has already died that the stand is very poor. This is true particularly of fields with north and west exposure. Some fields have been plowed up and planted in corn, and, unless more favorable conditions soon intervene, many more will have stands too poor to pay for cultivation.

Full reports of the recent disaster to the cotton crop by the untimely weather of last cotton crop by the untimely weather of last week have been received from nearly every town and hamlet in northwest Georgia. Early planted cotton was damaged much more than late cotton. Where cotton was well up and had been chopped out it suf-fered badly, particularly in exposed places, that is, where there was no protection from the high northerly winds. In some fields over three-quarters of the cotton was killed. A few farmers have plowed up these ir-retrievably damaged cotton fields and planted corn. However, there are still many fields that have fair stands of cotton, especially where the cotton was late and had not been chopped out before the cold weather; but all cotton is stunted and set back. Beans, peas, sweet potatoes and watermelons, also, were all badly damaged by the cold. Corn generally looks well, though its growth has been somewhat checked. Irish potatoes are all right. Wheat has a little rust, but looks quite promising. Oats have not done very well promising. Oats have not done very well this year. Early wheat and oats will soon be ready to harvest. Grass is growing

Plowing Up Cotton. Plowing Up Cotton.

The weather in northern Georgia has been too cool and windy for crops to make any progress during the past week. In the extreme north the wintry weather did considerable damage to all vegetation. The lay of the land has a great deal to do with determining the present condition of extreme north the white considerable damage to all vegetation. The lay of the land has a great deal to do with determining the present condition of the cotton crop. On west and north sides of hills and level ground the plants still seem injured beyond recovery, while in places that were protected from the cold and destructive winds, the stand is quite fair. Some are planting over as fast as they can, while others are more hopeful, and are waiting to see what will be the outcome. Corn in some districts is very small and yellow; but most fields show a good stand, and an average yield is certain. Oats are improving, and harvesting has commenced. Wheat is still rusting. Rye is in fair condition. Apples and peaches are a total failure. Nearly all of the peach trees are dead.

From the effect of cold weather, crops in the northeastern section are but slowly recovering. The past week, although not as cold as the preceding one, has still been decidedly cool. Cotton is in a critical condition throughout the entire section, and in many localities is dying, root and leaf, and some farmers are plowing up and, where seed can be procured, replanting. Wheat is a light crop, but will soon be ready for harvesting, probably within the next week. Qats are in better condition than wheat, and are also nearly ready for the scythe: a short yield is expected. Corn is, as a rule, looking well and, where planted early, has been plowed out the second time. Pea planting is in progress, and a few plants are already appearing above the soil. Gardens are badly in need of rain and warm weather.

Damage to Melons.

In the western part of the state the Damage to Melons. In the western part of the state the nights have been cool, and cotton has made very little recovery from the late cold wave. Incalculable damage was done both to cotton and melons, while other crops suffered less. Many of the cotton plants are dead, while it is thought many crops suffered less. Many of the cotton plants are dead, while it is thought many more will die, and the indications point to a poor crop, especially that which is planted on sandy land. Corn continues to look well, and in most cases has received its second plowing. Early wheat will be harvested in a few days, and will only be a fair crop. Some oats are ripe and are being harvested. The stem and heads are rather short, and the crop will be poor, especially spring oats. Sweet potato slips in some places are not looking very well, and all gardens are in need of warm weather and rain. Fruit will be scarce.

Discouraging reports have been received from middle Georgia. Crops in that section are recovering very slowly from the serious setback by the cold of the 19th and 20th, owing to the slowness of the weather to again get seasonably warm. Cotton planters are badly demoralized; some are still waiting to see what will be the further condition of the cotton crop; some have been chopping out and some have been planting over. It is still impossible to calculate the amount of injury done cotton, but, at all odds it is great. Cane, peas, sweet potatoes and watermelons have all been more or less retarded and damaged by cold weather. Corn generally looks fine. Irisn potatoes in most localities are doing well. Oats are beginning to be harvested, and the yield appears to be pretty fair.

The wintry weather of the 19th, 20th and 21st instant in south Georgia, as compared with the weather in the northern counties, was very mild. Everything was retarded by the cold, but no serfous damage has been done. Cotton, the chief sufferer, is again in fair cond. n. On some farms it has been getting lousy during the cold weather, and a heavy rain would be of much benefit. Corn, everywhere, is in good condition and is reported by some to be waist high. Most of the oat crop has been housed; the yield is fair. Melons are in good condition, but some vizes near the roots look yellow. Cutworms are destroying vegetables.

In the southeast sectio

regetables.

In the southeast section of the state, on and near the coast, cotton has not had to contend with such cold weather as has prewiled in the other sections of the state; nevertheless the crop was considerably retarded. Cotton now on many plantations is coming along nicely. Corn is growing well. Oats are being cut and average quite well in quantity. Irish potatoes are being dug and shipped; the yield is fair and the quality but the price received, $1.25 a crate, is considered low. Rice looks well. Watermelons and okra were retarded by cold weather.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is absolutely unequaled as a blood purifier and strengthening medicine. It is the ideal spring medicine. Try it.
